Soft Words for New President

New Summit Move Seen Coming Soon

Winner Begins Filling Jobs

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today began the construction of a new administration by announcing that he will retain Allan W. Dulles as head of the central intelligence agency and J. Edgar Hoover as director of the federal bureau of investigation.

In his first press conference since winning the national election, the Democratic victor also announced plans for co-operating with President Eisenhower in the transition of one administration to another.

Kennedy expects to meet personally with Eisenhower, probably in Washington, late this month.

He also disclosed plans to fly to Texas next week to visit briefly with vice-president-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

NOTE TO NIKITA

Tackling a vast amount of organization work at his Cape Cod home here today, the president-elect also sent a message to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, saying "the achievement of a just and lasting peace will remain a fundamental goal of this nation."

Laying the foundation of an administration in the living room of the cottage of his

KENNEDY GOT LESS THAN HALF OF U.S. VOTES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly complete returns indicated today that Sen. John F. Kennedy may have received less than half of the total votes cast for president.

With all but a small fraction of the vote counted, a United Press International tabulation early today showed that Kennedy had 49.99 per cent of the votes. Vice-President Richard Nixon and the minor party candidates had 50.01 per cent.

Excluding the other candidates, the tabulation gave these percentages:

Kennedy—50.26 per cent.
Nixon—49.74 per cent.

At 10.30 a.m. (PST) Kennedy's 346,000-vote margin over Nixon amounted to 0.48 per cent of the 66,542,000 votes cast for the two major party candidates.

The closest popular vote in history was the 0.30 per cent margin by which Democrat Grover Cleveland edged Republican James G. Blaine in 1884. Cleveland had 29,314 more votes than Blaine.

Truman Was Minority President

It may be weeks before it is finally determined whether Kennedy is the 12th president-elect in American history who failed to poll a majority of the popular vote. The final tally for minor party candidates will be the determining factor.

The last "minority" president was Harry S. Truman who outpolled Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by 2,100,000 votes in a four-man race in 1948 but failed to get a majority. The other two candidates—Strom Thurmond on the States' Rights ticket and Henry Wallace on the Progressive party ticket—each got more than 1,000,000 votes.

Meanwhile, in rechecks overnight the state of Hawaii, with three electoral votes was switched from the Kennedy to the Nixon column, but the margin is still so close it cannot be considered final. Alaska and New Mexico are still unsettled and even California, with its 32 votes for Kennedy is still very close.

With counting still going on the latest electoral college count showed Kennedy leading with 332 electoral votes and Nixon with 191 with 14 others unpledged.

'Any Steps Welcome' — Nikita

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently is manoeuvring for a summit conference with American President-elect John Kennedy.

He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months.

Western diplomats here agree that Khrushchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

In his message, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-United States relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready "to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions."

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a statement that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

WILLING TO GO

Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, space, or general disarmament — including nuclear testing."

Neither in Kennedy's statement before the election nor in Khrushchev's new message is there any hint of changes in basic U.S. or Soviet policy.

Khrushchev has said repeatedly that he wants a peace treaty signed separately by East and West Germany, whereas the U.S. stands firm on a peace treaty signed by a united Germany. Khrushchev wants the Western allies to pull out of West Berlin. Kennedy, like President Eisenhower, has pledged firm U.S. support for the continued independence of West Berlin from Communist rule.

Some top diplomats here said Khrushchev's friendly tone to Kennedy may be related to the top-level meeting of Communist leaders in Moscow this week. It could be, they said, an effort by Khrushchev to demonstrate that he still has a chance to make peaceful coexistence work.

Meanwhile diplomatic quarters in London said today British Prime Minister Macmillan would give high priority in his expected talks with Kennedy to the convening of a new East-West summit conference next spring.

REMEMBER THEM ON THEIR DAY

Ghostly figures of Canadian soldiers march through the Italian countryside in the shadow of the Ortona Cross. More than 1,300 Canadian servicemen are buried at the Canadian Military Cemetery at Ortona—scene of one of the bitterest battles in Italy during the Second World War. On Remembrance Day, Friday, millions of citizens across Canada will pay silent homage to the more than 100,000 Canadian servicemen who have died in defence of freedom since 1914.

DE GAULLE FIRM

New Crisis Looming In Algeria

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today ordered defence minister Pierre Messmer to fly to revolt-torn Algeria, where there have been widespread reports of disaffection in the French army.

Messmer will leave for Algeria Saturday morning. It was announced. He will visit the big French naval base at Mers El Kheir, near Oran, troops along the Algerian-Moroccan frontier and fighting units at Tiarret, in the mountains south-east of Oran.

He will return to Paris the evening of Nov. 15.

Messmer's trip followed reports of unrest in France's North African Army over de Gaulle's plans to make Algeria a near-independent republic.

The defendant, David J. Payne, was a footman at Clarence House, the London home of the Queen Mother, who shared with Princess Margaret from publishing his memoirs of his royal service.

De Gaulle was reported to have told a cabinet meeting Wednesday that he is determined to ram through his "Algerian Algeria" policy regardless of opposition.

De Gaulle suffered a setback early today in his controversial effort to set up an independent French nuclear-striking force.

After an all-night debate, the senate voted 186 to 83 against the plan, which had been rammed through the national assembly as a confidence issue.

COMPROMISE SEEN

The effect of the senate vote was to delay but probably not to kill the project. A joint senate-assembly committee will now work out a compromise version which could be voted into law by the assembly.

Informed sources said de Gaulle might invoke Article 16 of the constitution, giving himself absolute power to crack down on dissidents before he submits his "Algerian Algeria" plan to a national referendum.

Spokane Gets Snow

SPOKANE (AP) — The first general snowfall of the season came down over a portion of the inland empire today, whitening areas around Spokane and in the panhandle of North Idaho.

CLOUDY SKIES, SHOWERS FOR REMEMBRANCE DAY

Greater Victoria's outdoor Remembrance Day services Friday will likely be held under cloudy skies and showers.

There is also the possibility of another weather system now hovering off Vancouver Island moving in, with winds from the west around 25 mph.

But again, the weatherman predicted, there's the off-chance the sun might break through, perhaps coinciding with observances.

Sites and times of services follow: Victoria Cenotaph, legislative building grounds, 11 a.m.

Esquimalt war memorial, Bullen Park, 11 a.m. Saanich Memorial Gore Park, Cedar Hill Cross Road and Shelbourne, 2 p.m.

Oak Bay war memorial, Beach Drive, 3 p.m. Service for the Langford, Glen Lake and Colwood areas will be held at the Dunford Road war memorial at 10.40 a.m.

Finch Attorney Draws $500 Fine

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Defence Attorney Grant B. Cooper today was fined $500 for contempt of court during the Finch-Tregoff murder trial.

Judge Leroy Dawson had cited Cooper twice for contempt when the attorney objected to his statement to the jury in which he virtually instructed it to return a guilty verdict.

Dawson ordered Cooper to serve one day in jail for each $100 of the fine if he fails to pay, but the judge granted a 10-day stay of execution so the lawyer could file an appeal.

At the same time the district attorney's office investigated a report that the jurors had reached a verdict but the judge had rejected it. See P15.

WIRE BRIEFS

Castro Plot Charged

MANAGUA (AP) — The Nicaraguan government charged today Fidel Castro's Cuban government is helping a rebel band trying to organize an invasion of Nicaragua from neighboring Costa Rica.

Five Die In Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire swept a three-story tenement building on the west side early today, killing five occupants and injuring two others and three firemen. The injured were not believed seriously hurt.

World Wheat King

TORONTO (CP) — Wilbert Suchwold of Mitchellton, Sask., today was crowned world wheat king at the Royal Winter Fair.

Free of 2 Charges

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A court-martial Wednesday acquitted Cmdr. Albert T. Ford of the two remaining specifications in the July 19 collision of two U.S. navy destroyers in which 11 men died. Ford, captain of the USS Collett, pleaded guilty earlier to a general charge of negligently hazarding his ship but has not been sentenced.

'Chatterley' Big Hit

LONDON (AP) — Uncensored copies of Lady Chatterley's Lover went on sale in England and Wales for the first time today. Many shops sold out in the first few minutes.

NEGROES BACKED KENNEDY

Religious Issue Hurt, Helped Each Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First returns on the impact of the religious issue in Tuesday's election indicated that it cut both ways, deeply in some areas but not so much in others.

A survey of heavily Catholic counties in various states showed president-elect John F. Kennedy, a Catholic, generally running much stronger than Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee in 1956. He was weaker in some counties with a very low Catholic population.

A check of predominantly Negro wards in five large cities indicated a sizeable shift of the Negro vote toward Kennedy, compared with President Eisenhower's vote in the same wards four years ago.

Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton Wednesday called a shift in the defeat of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. He also expressed the belief that Nixon was hurt more than helped by the religious issue.

Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson disagreed with Morton's analysis but blamed Kennedy's defeat in farm belt states on the religious issue.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O Lord, save us from living on the surface of the tides that move around us. Help us to search out the deeper meaning of things. Enable us to see the true relation of values. May we view that which is in the foreground of time and space against the background of the eternal. May the light that is not on land or sea ever break upon us and guide us unto that which shall endure when time shall be no more. Thou hast made us for Thyself. Help us that we may not miss our true destiny. In Thy name, O Lord, we pray. Amen.

man Henry M. Jackson disagreed with Morton's analysis but blamed Kennedy's defeat in farm belt states on the religious issue.

The Negro and Catholic vote, along with support from organized labor, presumably contributed heavily to Kennedy's strong showing in the big cities, which helped him carry most of the populous states with the most prized blocs of electoral votes.

Some top diplomats here said Khrushchev's friendly tone to Kennedy may be related to the top-level meeting of Communist leaders in Moscow this week. It could be, they said, an effort by Khrushchev to demonstrate that he still has a chance to make peaceful coexistence work.

TWIST OF FATE DISCLOSES MISTAKEN IDENTITY

'My God! That's Not Mary'... And It Wasn't

NEW YORK (AP) — An incredible case of mistaken identity was disclosed when a sealed coffin was opened so that a young man could place a ring on a finger of an airline stewardess who lay inside.

"My God! That's not Mary," whispered Bob Evans, a family friend, as he looked at the body of a young woman.

Mary Hawthorne, 26, of New York, was one of four American airline stewardesses riding in a cab in San Bruno,

Calif., Monday when it was in collision with another auto.

The four women and the cab were hurried to hospital in San Mateo, Calif. One stewardess died, and police, on the basis of scattered personal papers found at the crash scene, identified her as Mary Hawthorne.

The other girls underwent surgery and were placed on the critical list.

The body of the young woman identified as Mary Hawthorne was sent to a funeral home in the Bronx. It lay entombed in a sealed coffin until nearly midnight.

UNCLE'S STORY

Walter Schamer of Massapequa Park, N.Y., Mary Hawthorne's uncle, said he was at the funeral home with Mary's friends, Evans and Norma Pugh, a stewardess.

Schamer continued: "Bob Evans asked the man at the funeral home to open the coffin because he had a ring that Mary used to wear and he wanted to put it on her finger. It was a sentimental gesture."

"The man opened the coffin for him. No one in the family had asked to have the coffin opened and we still haven't looked inside."

"But when the lid was pushed back, Evans told us he said, 'Oh my God! That's not Mary!'"

"The girl with him, Norma, looked and agreed right away. It wasn't Mary."

"The funeral was supposed to be at 2 p.m. today and we called it off."

IDENTIFICATION MADE

American Airlines said the girl who is now listed as dead is Joan Frost, 26, of New York.

The two other stewardesses involved in the crash were Sheila Murray, 22, and Teresa DiPacigo, 22, of Philadelphia.

Miss Hawthorne remains in critical condition. Heavy bandages conceal her face and she hasn't regained consciousness since the accident, which was near San Francisco International Airport.

Miss Murray and Miss DiPacigo were reported in good condition.

VANCOUVER — A victory for daylight saving time in Washington State is going to mean a slight loss of business for Buster's Towing Service and the Vancouver police traffic court.

It's not as complicated as it sounds.

The reason: Washington tourists won't have their watches set at the wrong time when they visit Vancouver during the summer.

James V. Hughes, executive vice-president of the Vancouver Tourist Association, says many U.S. visitors drive here from Washington without noticing that B.C. is on daylight saving time.

They park in areas with a 7 p.m. to 6 p.m. restriction thinking it's an hour earlier than it is.

"The first thing they know Buster's has towed away their car," said Hughes.

LONDON — Red-haired Sarah Churchill, actress daughter of Sir Winston Churchill, appeared in court today on drunk and disorderly conduct charges for the seventh time in 18 months.

A policeman testified he saw Miss Churchill, 45, trying to force her way into a London nightclub early this morning.

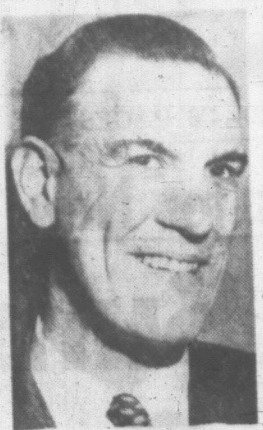

The fiery, twice-married actress pleaded guilty, but said "I was not trying to force an entry, I was already in the club."

The magistrate said he would delay sentencing.

LOS ANGELES — A judge Wednesday convicted Sammy Davis Jr.'s stage manager of battery on a parking lot attendant in a night club ruckus involving crooner Frank Sinatra.

John Hopkins, who weighs 230 pounds, said he wants to attend the marriage Sunday of Davis, Negro entertainer, to Swedish-born actress May Britt, so sentence was postponed for a week.

MAYOR ALSBURY
... 'reasonably fair'

Vancouver Gets Offer for Airport

VANCOUVER (CP) — The federal government has offered to buy Vancouver International Airport for $2,750,000, Mayor Tom Alsbury said today.

The mayor said in a telephone interview from Toronto that the treasury board has approved the offer, made by the transport department.

He said the offer is subject to adjustments worked out for equipment and for grants already made for the buildings.

"This is a reasonably fair offer but I can't give a final opinion until I see what adjustments are made," Mayor Alsbury said.

The adjustments apparently refer to the sum of $486,000 which the city now owes the government for airport expenses such as the construction of the west terminal and federal contributions to the old terminal.

Deduction of this figure would reduce the offer to about $2,250,000.

GRAIN SHIP STRIKE ENDS IN EAST

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Starr announced today that the Seafarers' International Union (Ind.) has heeded his call to end its illegal walk-out on Great Lakes shipping companies.

Mr. Starr had sent a telegram to Seafarers' Canadian director Hal Banks asking him to get crews back aboard the grain ships.

The labor minister told reporters today he received a phone call from Mr. Banks this morning saying Mr. Starr's wishes would be met.

Grain carrying vessels at Owen Sound, Port William, Montreal and Quebec City already have been "activated," Mr. Starr said.

TEMPORARY SHUTDOWN AT BAMBERTON

80 Men Laid Off Dec. 9

BAMBERTON — About 75 per cent of the total working force of B.C. Cement Co. Ltd. at Bamberton will be laid off when the plant is closed down for an eight-week period commencing Dec. 9, it was announced today.

R. E. Haskins, vice-president of production for the company said the shutdown "due to present high inventories" will affect 80 men.

He called the shutdown "routine and temporary only."

B.C. Cement Co. he said, is planning to resume full production the first week in February.

Winter shutdowns were the normal thing in cement plants prior to the war, he said. During the fifties, while construction was at its peak these plants were forced to maintain steady, full production. "However, the construction industry is again in the doldrums and our output is far in excess of demands."

B.C. Cement Co. he added, distributes its Elk brand products in the B.C. market only.

During the shutdown period, the company will carry out normal maintenance and plant repairs and the installation of new equipment.

WIDE OPEN DAY and NITE

U.S., Russia Feud on Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United States succeeded today in blocking a Soviet-Arab move to adjourn a UN credentials committee debate on the seating of a Congo delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote came after the Russians accused the United States of trying to railroad a decision with the aim of disrupting UN efforts to bring political peace in the turbulent African country.

The nine-nation committee rejected a Moroccan adjournment motion by a vote of five against, three in favor and one abstaining. Only the Soviet Union, Morocco and the United Arab Republic supported the proposal. New Zealand, as chairman, abstained.

The committee then began debate on a U.S. proposal that it act now on the seating of a Congo delegation, headed by Kasavubu. This proposal was vigorously opposed by the Soviet Union.

U.S. PROPOSAL APPROVED

The committee quickly approved the U.S. proposal by a vote of five in favor, three against and one abstention. The lineup was the same as in the previous vote. Voting with the United States were Costa Rica, Haiti, Spain and the Philippines.

Just as the committee convened the Soviet Union issued a statement assailing U.S. motives.

The Soviet Union is backing a rival delegation representing deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The Soviet statement asserted that the United States is trying to railroad a decision on the Kasavubu delegation with the aim of disrupting a normal solution of the Congo problem and "undermining the forthcoming work of the conciliation committee of Afro-Asian countries set up in accordance with a decision of the fourth extraordinary session of the General Assembly."

DEBATE SUSPENDED

The assembly Wednesday suspended its debate on the Congo question indefinitely.

Ghana and Guinea, supported by the Soviet bloc, pushed through a surprise motion to hold up the Congo debate at Wednesday's assembly session.

Nfld. to Quit Group

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland said Tuesday he probably will recommend to his cabinet that the province pull out of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council.

RUSSIAN CLAIM

'War Criminal' in U.K.?

LONDON (Reuters) — Russia has demanded that Britain extradite an Estonian "war criminal" now living in England, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

The demand was made in a note handed to the British ambassador in Moscow Wednesday, Tass said.

The note said Soviet judicial organs investigating crimes committed in Estonia by the Nazis during the war had found that one of the main culprits and leading criminals was living in England.

The note said the Soviet government expected that the British authorities would take measures to hand over the man to the Soviet authorities.

The note said that in 1941 the man joined the political police set up by the Germans in occupied Estonia and soon was promoted officer in Hitler's SS elite corps and head of the security police and security service in Estonia.

He was in charge of all the punitive activities of all police forces in Estonia, where during the Nazi occupation more than 100,000 prisoners of war and civilians from various countries were put to death, the note said.

To Hold It High . . .

ONCE MORE THE FREE world pauses on the eve of an Armistice Day anniversary, preparing to devote a few hours—or perhaps only a few moments—to thoughts of what has gone before. Inevitably those thoughts will invite questioning as to what lies ahead, for the essence of Armistice Day is sacrifice, and it was sacrifice for the future, not for the past.

Therein lies our responsibility. For full acceptance of the sacrifice entails the duty of ensuring that it was not in vain. Is this a world in which that duty can be discharged without the possession of strength? It does not seem likely. The forces arrayed against our democratic way are not those to be moved by sentiment or sympathy. And what is more, they make no pretence of being so moved. The warning has been clearly given in many ways:

keep up your guard or suffer the consequences.

That is perhaps a harsh text for Armistice Day. But Armistice Day was born in harshness: there is nothing gentle about death in battle action. The only gain to be derived from death is if it prevents further death. Only thus can the past protect the future; only thus can those who have gone protect those who are yet to come. And our generation, as the connecting link, must not fail in its task.

The task will not be achieved in weakness. Strength, and the deterrent effect on others which it imposes, will ensure the peace, when it is worn by those who make clear beyond doubt that it will never be used to break the peace.

To us—failing hands they threw the torch. Be ours to hold it high . . .

No Fees for Park Camps

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT should lose no time in telling the Auto Courts and Resorts Association of British Columbia that it will not consider a resolution to force campers to pay a daily charge for the use of public campsites in provincial parks and scenic spots.

This is an old and fully considered issue. The association, of course, sees in its resolution an opportunity for commercial gain. If campers can be forced to pay a fee for camping, why shouldn't they pay a little more and enjoy the amenities offered by the commercial interests?

British Columbians should not pay an extra fee for using a camp site because they have already paid for the camp sites through their taxes. And if visitors are to be charged a "nuisance fee," why are we spending so much on tourist attractions if we intend to "soak" our guests at the door?

The simple fact of the matter is that camp sites are a legitimate public undertaking planned and created for public enjoyment and vacation health. They are of a nature to appeal both to our own people and to tourists from other parts of Canada and the continent.

The facilities which are provided are excellent as "free" facilities. Were they to be subject to charge, several developments would take place. In the first place, the camper who is happy with what is now offered to him, would want more—hot and cold showers, additional facilities generally. And having paid a fee, a number of them would be disinclined to show the consideration for the camp property which they do at present, when it is part of their heritage and a source of pride to them.

Furthermore, camps have, as one of their objectives, built-in safety factors. Those who like to take their vacations out-of-doors are, by means of campsites, encouraged to pitch their tents and cook their meals in locations designed to reduce dangers of fire in the woods. Place a charge on existing facilities and a number will go elsewhere, into scenic regions where it is difficult to establish control on such matters as fire and sanitation.

The indications are that the resort owners attribute a drop in income to extensive use of parks this year. The remedy for that is to improve their own facilities, not to discourage people from doing it themselves. Camping is a form of relaxation for whole families. There were 2,444,000 visits to picnic and camp sites last year, and 660,000 overnight camps. Surely this is contributing greatly to health and the enjoyment of living in this part of the world.

Licences for Boat Drivers

A SMALL-BOAT SAFETY CONFERENCE in Ottawa has voted down a resolution to require "driving licence" tests for people who handle such craft.

There are not sufficient statistics available to prove that tests of that nature are needed, the conference was told. But the discussion centering on that question is interesting to boat-conscious Victorians.

An American boating authority told the meeting in Ottawa that a four-months Congressional inquiry in the United States indicated that incompetent boat operators were not the chief cause of accidents. According to investigations in that country, the main source of accidents were experienced operators who had grown negligent.

In opposition to this view was the assistant deputy attorney-general of Ontario, who invited those opposed to licensing to attend a few inquests involving deaths in lakes and rivers. That, he suggested, would convince them that tests of competency were necessary.

But if they disagreed on this point, delegates seemed to be relatively unanimous on another. Strict enforcement of laws passed to increase safety was generally considered necessary if the boating toll was to be reduced.

As far as waters in the Greater Victoria vicinity or around Vancouver Island are concerned, that remedy poses an obvious difficulty. Enforcement is possible only when there are sufficient people of authority to police the boats. That calls for higher expenditures to finance larger staffs. Where, it may be asked, shall the money be found?

No More Victims

THE TRAGIC LOSS OF A detachment of Irish soldiers of the United Nations force in the Congo appears to have been due more to a raid by native jungle fighters reverting to type than to a new phase of the political struggle in that country.

The incident, however, emphasizes the confused and dangerous situation in the Congo, and the need for early action by the U.N. to bring order. The United Nations force is trying scrupulously to refrain from interference in the domestic affairs of the Congo, but this is rendered almost impossible when those affairs will not permit themselves to be kept separate from the U.N.'s mission. Attacks on troops who are present not to attack but to assist, must be prevented.

Is the United Nations making adequate provision to explain its motives to every tribe and enlist its support? Are these attacks as were those less serious attacks on Canadian personnel—still the result of "misunderstanding" by the natives? If education of the Congolese is the answer to a good deal of the difficulty, then by all means let the U.N. get on with it and make clear to all the true nature of its mission in the Congo.

A Matter of Status

IT IS REGRETTABLE TO learn that important figures in the insurance field are worrying about their position in the social status scale.

Mr. T. Bruce Ross, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Fire Insurance Company, has informed the Insurance Institute of Winnipeg that he hangs his head in shame because members of his profession are held to be of lower status than a bookkeeper, small store manager, electrician, columnist or radio announcer.

Any man who hangs his head in shame for such a reason deserves to suffer a certain social ignominy.

Status and status symbolism are diseases which have infected our society in recent years. Isn't it about time that we got back to a recognition of people as people and an appreciation of them for the contributions they make to society?

We are happy to think that most insurance men are performing a useful service in selling insurance, and contributing to the welfare of their communities in their daily work. Mr. Ross would find respect for his calling in the thousands of Canadians who have benefitted from a proper insurance program.

"Well, you tell the kind, patient people of Victoria not to worry . . . as soon as we get that valve-seat manifold flange for the extricator from Afghanistan we'll be just about ready to start flying into action."

Always in the Grip of a Powerful Trend

SAN FRANCISCO — The American people are habitually in the grip of some powerful, if ephemeral, trend, passion, or prejudice: McCarthyism, for instance, or a national preoccupation with the inadequacies of education, or progress into space, or Positive Thinking.

They often move helter skelter from opinion to opinion, complex to self-doubt, hypothesis to repudiation. Just at this moment, though, they seem to be in between emotions. They are ticking over.

This is partly due, of course, to the Presidential elections, which inevitably impede the national momentum. But more fundamentally, I suspect, it may spring from a mood of reconsideration.

The Americans are taking hard long looks at their position in the world, their rigid foreign policy and the validity of their public attitudes. They have suffered some hard knocks lately, from the Sputniks to the Cubans, and however confidently Mr. Nixon talks about the advantages of experience the ordinary people I have met this time seem to have no illusions about the success of their postures abroad.

Brash Image

Consider, secondly, at this moment of pause, how grossly distorted is the image of brashness America casts across the world, how benign and gruffly helpful her people generally remain. I stopped briefly in Chicago the other evening, and experienced more small kindnesses in a couple of hours than any traveller has a right to expect in a lifetime, from the airline man who instantly solved, with the ghost of a wink, my problems of excess baggage to the manager of Neilsen's Restaurant who drove me in his own car lickety-split back to the airport to catch my flight. It is easy to be deceived by a stray act of courtesy, as it is by the surliness of a single taxi-driver or the drizzle of a solitary day; but for myself I still find America kind in depth, kind in texture, far beyond that vision of the commercial smile and the salesman's handshake that has come to represent her manners to the world at large.

Lingering Insularity

Consider, thirdly, the lingering provincialism and insularity of the Americans, extraordinarily in a people embroiled so tortuously in the affairs of the world. This never ceases to astonish me. The huge new international airport at Chicago has no facilities for foreign exchange, and even here in San Francisco, familiar to the adventurers, beachcombers, and sea-captains of several centuries, a foreigner is still often the subject of fascinated scrutiny.

Among the Americans, Europeans still fall into simple, time-honored, and usually flattering categories. British calm and unwaveringly patrician, French charming and unquestionably flirtatious, Swiss always efficient, Dutch always stolid, Russians Communist, Germans reformed.

One expects the island British to be insular, but it always amazes me that a people who sprang out of the corners of Europe, and whose fleets and armies range the hemispheres, should view the rest of us with such elementary vision.

Or consider their erratic but stimulating shifts in fads and fashions, which are half the fun of America.

Fads and Fashions

Here are a few that have struck me this time: dresses with very short middle, middle jackets, worn by every other New York secretary; old tunes played to unsuspecting new rhythms—the Kerry dances, for example, as an inspiring if improbable march; the rock-bottom reputation among educated Americans of television, knocked askew by the Van Doren scandal and only now getting a new shot in the arm from the fascinating Kennedy-Nixon debates; the brave revival of liberalism enabling Kennedy and his men to say things that would have been political hara-kiri a few years ago; "home-maker" as a euphemism for housewife; the blind spot that shadows, like the black half of a migraine, any aspect of America's relationship with Russia.

This is a country of a million moods, always shifting, prodded on all sides by the emotive spikes of American society, from Madison Avenue to the Puritan conscience.

Yet in another way, when I consider the matter, it feels ever more relentlessly the same, in that the bumps of America are still being ironed out. I do not mean just the kinks of everyday manners, the regional dishes, and the hill-billy dialects; uniformity of living seems almost inescapable in a society so energetic as this. I mean the always spreading conformity of outlook.

Among Europeans you can still never tell how a man will react; the French aristocrat may be a howling Left, the member for Ebbw Vale a patrician to the core. Choose your American, though, for type and background, and you can usually forecast almost exactly what his opinion will be or any given subject.

There are indeed only about a dozen Americans, each one duplicated a million times to make a living nation (and what a joy it is to have this impudent generalization busted, when you still meet, once or twice in a lifetime, a rip-roaring, full-blooded, two-fisted, wild-eyed old American eccentric!).

WE ARE THE DEAD WHO HAVE SPOKEN

We who gave of our unspent youth have answered the ultimate challenge. Blood has been ransomed for blood that the scurrilous score be paid; That the score be paid in full and the easy speech of the tyrant Stilled in the bestial throat, silenced for evermore.

Swift was the flame of our vengeance, born of the evil betrayal. Brief was the prelude proclaimed to the siege and the chaos to come; Purging the Past of its shame and the scourge of the bitter appeasement, Lighting the pathway to peace and the dawn of a newer day.

We are the Dead who have spoken; whose bodies lay strewn on the beaches, Or trapped in the flaming Spitfire spiralling crazily earthward; Who were doomed to the darkened way by the bomb and the crashing torpedo, Or tortured by alien hands in enemy camps pestilential.

Pledge us no vows superficial. Promises futile and empty. In dead-men's ears ring too hollow; In dead-men's ears echo false; Down the long slope of the ages, tumult will trouble our slumber, Sorrow inhabit our dreaming, if you should fail to remember.

We shall waken no more to the combat nor the intricate hours' achieving, Our blood has been ransomed for blood, that the scurrilous score be paid; That the score be paid in full and the easy speech of the tyrant, Stilled in the bestial throat, silenced forevermore.

—IRENE CHAPMAN BENSON.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Disgust

Being an extremely satisfied customer of The Milky Way Dairy Company, I feel I must express my disgust at the treatment this company has been receiving for some time from officials of the Agriculture Department of the B.C. Government. Surely this man Regher could spend his time investigating legitimate reports on other farms and leave this hard-working and most efficient firm alone. Interference like this must make immigrants who have come here from Communist countries wonder if Canada is the free country they thought they were coming to.

It certainly is a mystery to many people how the Social Credit Government has the nerve to retain ministers in office after they have been thrown out by the people at the last election—especially one who seems to have caused so much annoyance to the farmers.

The Arena

In Saturday, Nov. 5, issue on the editorial page, appears the statement "The Arena was built by public subscription as a memorial to our war dead."

To many of your readers during the past dozen years who have followed press reports, the Arena would appear to have been paid for to a large extent by all the city tax payers, many of whom expect a memorial to the dead to be a structure of dignity and beauty.

Not only is the design of this building far from ornamental, but also the past history of fantastic maintenance costs suggest that good craftsmanship and expert workmanship were lacking in the original construction work.

The City seems to have learned that participation in the highly commercialized amusement business is not a suitable investment for the city revenues and is a lesson to be kept in mind at this time.

It is sad that beautiful Victoria has War Memorials that perpetuate ugliness of design.

Church Unity

The plea for church unity is evidently going to be a major issue in the future. The Victoria Daily Times of July 16, Aug. 8, Sept. 16, Oct. 1 and others indicate that the demand is insistent. Now your Nov. 1 headline "Vatican Hails Visit of Canterbury as 'Step to Unity'" impresses one that this unity may indeed be realized.

The Chest

Now that the current Community Chest campaign is drawing to a close, may I be permitted, as the oft-quoted 1958 Campaign Chairman and as Past President, to attempt to clear up some misunderstandings.

Probably the most prominent of these is the press reference to the 1958 "hard sell" campaign as compared to 1960's "soft sell." As far as I am personally concerned, there was never any intention of "hard selling" nor, as some of your readers have from time to time indicated in letters, was there at any time an intent to use "pressure tactics," "blackmail," etc., etc.

The only difference in campaign tactics was the difference in presentation of facts. If the public is to be expected to support this community project it is entitled to know the whole truth and not just that part of it that is inoffensive to everyone.

The truth is that in this, and every other community effort, on average it is the wage earner and small pensioner that does his full share. On the average, business generally, and the well-to-do are not doing their fair share. The record of mammoth national firms doing millions of dollars in business in Victoria is shameful, indicating a complete disregard for their responsibility to a community that supports them.

Now to be fair, there are some outstanding exceptions, such as the utility companies and department stores, and others. There are also some extremely generous well-to-do people and local businesses.

Now what is it that the people of Victoria will have to do? Have we not in Community Chest, and for that matter in other projects, a responsibility to the public to tell the truth? Is it not our responsibility to see that the load is fairly distributed and that the wage earner is not bearing more than his share? Are we not duty bound to tell the business and professional groups the full facts if we know these groups are not holding their end up?

Should we not in fairness to the generous and as an example to others who apparently don't know or don't care publish the names and amounts of all commercial contributions? Should we not remember that our first responsibility is to the blind, the homeless, the dependent children, the welfare of the community as a whole, and to the thousands of wonderful men and women volunteers who labor on their behalf? Are we being fair to all who support this and tell the whole truth?

Finally, let me say that the failure of Community Chest this year in reaching its goal is not the failure of the method employed nor of the Chairman or canvassers. They have done their best. It is the failure of 30 per cent of the corporate and individual members of our community to recognize individual responsibility as free citizens of a democracy. The greater our wealth the heavier our responsibility to our generation and to those that follow us. Selfishness is self-destructive—it also is destructive of all we hold dear, including freedom itself—for our children and grandchildren.

The Community Chest must not and will not fail. It's up to 30 per cent of the population to re-examine its position. For the rest—we suggest when the shoe of criticism obviously does not fit, ignore it. Your goal and ours is exactly the same, though our approach may differ.

MARKED for READING

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Many delinquent youngsters have a deep inner conviction of badness. Ultimately, treatment should always aim at changing that inner picture. If once they learn to respect themselves, they are also on the way to respect others—and that is the road back to society. But this self-respect, this self-acceptance, depends in the final instance on their being accepted by others. And that is where we all come in.

Madame Vanier's Hope

A few years ago, when Gen. Vanier was ambassador to France, a friend of mine told me of a brief visit he had paid to Canada's representative in Paris. My friend was deeply impressed by Gen. Vanier, equally impressed by the charm, graciousness and quickness of mind of Madame Vanier.

This country, he said, was fortunate to have such people in that office in a nation where culture, intelligence and the refinements of living were so thoroughly appreciated.

Then he told me of a conversation he had enjoyed with the lady. She had talked current events with a broad knowledge of what was going on in the world and eventually they had discussed books. Madame Vanier's reading and her grasp of what she read, her critical faculties and her recognition of merit had endeared her to my friend who is a pretty critical person himself and who also reads.

In my ignorance I had known nothing of this distinguished Canadian couple until the enlightening talk from my friend. When it was over I was half in love with Madame Vanier, whom I had never seen, never heard and have yet to view in the flesh. She was represented to me in terms which made me a little prouder of being a Canadian.

Now I am a little prouder still, having just read the message she has given as patroness of Young Canada's Book Week, starting in Victoria on Saturday and continuing through next week.

"My husband and I love books," writes Madame Vanier. "We have many of our own, both in French and in English. We like to read them and we like to circulate them among our friends. This, you might say, makes us small scale librarians."

She is concerned with the responsibility of advising people what to read: "In Canada, this problem is by no means diminished by the fact that we have two literatures from which to draw our reading material. But, if our difficulties are multiplied and our responsibilities made twofold by this fact, so should be our energy and our reward, for we are laboring towards a greater goal: a better education and a greater enjoyment for ourselves and our children." And she hopes that as time goes on we, as Canadians, will become more fluently bilingual, that more and more people, especially the younger ones, will ask for books written in their second language.

That is a hope in which many of us share — even those of us who claim no mastery over English and have been subjected, by juvenile tongues, to high school and freshman French mangled by children whose enthusiasm outpaces their scholarship and fluency.

I don't know how, on this coast, you breathe life into French for youngsters who have so little opportunity to use it except to show off. As we have more Canadians of French extraction moving among us, the occasions for speaking French may become more frequent.

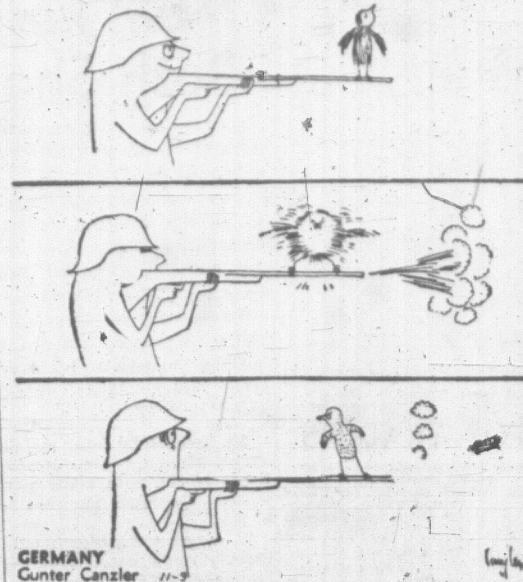

I remember how a child of three, moving away to a settlement where two young French Canadians were neighbors, and friendly ones, returned with a "Bonjour, Comment-ça-va?" greeting for everyone she met.

I don't know how the Victoria Public Library will use its display space next week to publicize Young Canada Book Week. But it would be interesting if, this year or next, some effort were made to follow Madame Vanier's bilingual proposal.

It shouldn't be too difficult to find good primary books, like the ones we use to familiarize our toddlers with simple words through pictures, to implant a small seed of French in a very young mind. From that beginning it might be possible to foster a continuing interest. If that flourished, we might become as smart, linguistically, as a lot of people in Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern Canadian cities.

We might even reach the point at which, travelling in Europe, we could drop into a French restaurant, order ham and potato salad and get it instead of hot white beans and pork chops — which actually happened through language difficulties to a person not far from the typewriter on which this is written.

TODAY'S BEST FROM EUROPE

LABOR GOV'T SHAKY

Crucial Election In New Zealand

AUCKLAND (CP) — The only Labor government now in power in the Commonwealth will be fighting for its life in the New Zealand general election set for Nov. 26.

Veteran Prime Minister Walter Nash, his vigor unimpaired despite his 79 years, opened the campaign officially Oct. 31 with Labor's keynote policy speech.

Keith J. Holyoake, National party leader and a former prime minister, launched his party's campaign two days later.

A general election is required by law every three years in New Zealand and this Parliament has run its full course. That it has done so is little short of a political miracle.

In the last general election in 1957, Labor ousted the former National government by the narrowest possible margin, winning 41 seats in the House of Representatives to 39 for National. With the election of a speaker, Labor was left with a 40-39 margin.

Because of heavy taxes imposed shortly after it gained office, Labor incurred wide unpopularity and early in its term a byelection in any but the safest Labor seat could have meant the fall of the government.

But the Labor government has been fortunate in avoiding the need for a byelection in any of its seats. The one byelection that occurred during the life of Parliament was in a National-held seat.

By the strictest discipline on members in their attendance and voting in Parliament, the government has managed to survive the three years with its precarious one-vote majority.

Only the one chamber is involved in the election since New Zealand abolished its upper house, the legislative council, in 1950. This chamber had become little more than a rubber stamp and the original intention was to create a different form of upper house. Neither party, however, now is proposing to restore a second chamber.

Social Credit Party to Try Again

Both Labor and National will be contesting all 80 parliamentary seats. So will the Social Credit party, which won 11 per cent of the popular vote in 1954 and seven per cent three years ago. It has never won a seat in Parliament, however, and few people believe it will this year.

The Communist party also will contest some city seats, but its backing is negligible and its candidates almost invariably lose their deposits.

Ostensibly, the election will be fought on the issues of socialism versus free enterprise. In point of fact, however, the Labor party is decidedly right-wing for a socialist party, and the National party is far more liberal in outlook than conservative groups in most countries.

So the difference in political outlook is far more in emphasis and degree of belief in controls and restrictions. In fact, the main deciding factor is likely to be whether resentment has subsidized over the actions of the Labor government during its first year in office.

Labor gained power on a tax-reduction platform, including an offer of a $250 rebate on income tax. Nash said new social security benefits could be granted without raising taxes. The rebate was duly given, but Labor then encountered a severe economic recession and responded by imposing heavy new taxes.

Resentment, especially among faithful Labor supporters, was so deep that an election in the first year or two would almost certainly have seen Labor ejected in a landslide.

The economic outlook has greatly improved since then, however, and substantial tax reductions have been made. Resentment has greatly declined and many believe current prosperity has brought a far more tolerant view of Labor's record since the last election.

Press Control Dangerous

LONDON (Reuters) — Controls on journalists such as those applying to lawyers and doctors could lead to political pressures, censorship and other abuses, the British Press Council said today.

The council, the newspaper industry's voluntary "watch-dog" on journalistic ethics, was commenting in its annual report on suggestions in a recent House of Lords debate for "controlling" the profession. These suggestions, it said, included the licensing, registration, control and punishment of journalists for offences against codes of conduct.

In medicine and the law, there is a body of fixed knowledge and general practice which could be tested by examination. But the journalist learns mainly from practical experience, and from contact with his fellow men, the report said.

The report said that if an open profession were to be regarded and treated as a closed and learned profession, it was easy to see that such an approach could lead to political pressures, censorship and other abuses.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By DICK WEST

A Lot of Dry Rot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Another one of my cherished illusions has just been shattered and now lies in a quivering, whimpering heap at my feet.

This one was shot down by the Smithsonian Institution, which cold-bloodedly reports that tree rings are not necessarily reliable indicators of a tree's age. Gad, sir! Is there nothing left we can depend on?

According to the Smithsonian, a new arboreal study shows that trees tend to grow by "flushes," that is, in spurts. A tree may suddenly start growing almost any time of the year and one part may grow while another part does not.

If that reminds any of you parents of someone you know, it possibly is because trees seem to have something in common with adolescent children.

At any rate, the report comes as a shock to those of us who grew to manhood thinking that all trees uniformly develop one new ring each year. It is, moreover, only one of a series of reports I have seen recently indicating that an agonizing reappraisal of Mother Nature may be in order.

The agriculture department, for instance, tells us that that age-old belief in the existing of "dry rot" is just a lot of rot. There is no such thing as "dry rot."

All wood decay, the department avers, is caused by a fungus which cannot exist in dry wood.

SYNOPSIS — Wednesday's coastal storm spread snowflurries to most interior points overnight and a few will continue today. On the coast showery weather persists and more pronounced rain will develop later in the day as a fresh surge of cool Pacific air approaches. This surge will bring cool, showery weather to coastal districts on Friday and group of Canadian medical experts recommended today that compulsory blood tests be introduced in Canada to cut down on deaths and damage caused by drunken driving.

The Forensic Society of Canada, in the second day of its annual meeting here, decided to submit its resolution to the federal government for consideration.

The means of judging the degree of a driver's intoxication, it was said, should be the blood test, which today may be taken only with the consent of a suspect.

The society recommended that a jail sentence and licence suspension be given drivers whose alcohol content is 1.5 grams per kilogram of blood.

This was the equivalent of three large bottles of beer or four two-ounce drinks of liquor, consumed by a man of 160 pounds.

Strong Market Recovery Seen Soon

BY GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

Reaction of the New York market to the Kennedy victory was just about what most Victoria brokers had been predicting.

The slow opening half-hour was followed by a sharp break, due no doubt to selling by disappointed Nixon supporters. Half an hour before the close the market, which had dropped off eight points on the Dow

Jones industrial average about mid-day, made a final recovery surge and ended up better than four points above the opening.

Quite obviously the professionals had moved in to take advantage of good buys—buys which were good not matter whether Kennedy, Nixon or Joe Doakes was the next president of the United States.

Reaction of the Canadian market, again as expected, was quite slight. Inter-listed stocks made some variation of Toronto and New York, in sympathy with New York. But there was little real excitement.

Victoria investment men said that the election had spurred no unusual buying or selling in the city. In only one city board-room was there a slightly larger than usual crowd watching the quotations.

Watch now, say most brokers, for a rather weak market for a short time due to lack of confidence investors have traditionally shown toward new Democratic regimes. However, the feeling is that the market wants to go higher and with the election out of the way the turning point for a strong recovery could be near.

economic difficulties which have caused increased unemployment in many areas.

Importance of the payroll savings plan to the Canada Savings Bond drive can be seen when it is realized that close to 40 per cent of the total objective is raised in this way.

Report from the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association in Toronto reports that British Columbia and Alberta, the two provinces with largest population gains during the 1950s, showed the largest increases in life insurance ownership.

Percentage gain for B.C. from 1950 to 1959 was 205 per cent with a population increase of 38 per cent and personal income increase of 97 per cent.

Odd exception to the general rule of insurance ownership increasing in relation to population and income was Saskatchewan. With only an eight per cent population boost and 67 per cent income increase, insurance ownership still climbed by 170 per cent—much higher relatively than the average of the country as a whole.

Great West Life Assurance Company of Winnipeg has announced a new and higher dividend scale for Canadian participating policy holders effective Jan. 1. Rates of interest allowed on accumulated dividends left on deposit will be raised to 4.65 per cent—reflection, the company states, of higher earnings on the company's invested assets.

B.C. Telephone reports earnings for first nine months of year, including August and September income of recently acquired subsidiary Northwest Telephones, at $3,496,684 compared to $3,402,303 for same period last year. This year's earnings are equivalent to $2.26 a share.

Bell of Canada Ex-Chief Dies
MONTREAL (CP)—Charles Fleetford Sise, a director of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada and president of the company from 1925 to 1944, died early today. He was 86.

Born in Boston, Mass., he was the fourth president of Bell of Canada and a son of the founder and organizer of the company.

EXPANSION PLANS
TORONTO (CP)—International Nickel Company of Canada Ltd. has announced a $50,000,000 expansion of its iron-ore recovery plant at Copper Cliff, Ont., which will triple the plant's capacity.

In the beginning, the plan raised about $440,000 from employees in about 30 plants and businesses. This year Mr. Munro expects the total will be about $1,450,000, which will be possibly some $40,000 less than last year but still a good accomplishment in view of economic difficulties.

Mr. Munro, payroll section supervisor for Vancouver Island served the War Finance Committee through two war loans starting in 1939, the subsequent nine victory loans and all the Canada Savings Bond campaigns since 1946.

A booster of the payroll deduction system as one of the best possible investments and savings plans available to the average person, Mr. Munro has travelled an average of 2,000 miles a year around the Island during every campaign.

He has visited almost every settlement, logging camp, mill and industrial operation on the island and now has more than 55 payroll savings plans organized.

When the final reports come in next week on the payroll deduction plan of the 1960 Canada Savings Bond drive, it will mark the end of the 21st year of participation in government bond sales campaigns for W. F. (Bill) Munro of Hagar Investments in Victoria.

Recently returned from a trade mission to the European Common Market, James A. Roberts, Canadian deputy trade minister, said Wednesday night that tariffs on most Canadian goods going to the six-country economic union probably will be higher next year. "I have an idea the tariff walls will be pretty tight and tight," he said.

McNamara New Ford Chief

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI)—Robert S. McNamara was elected president of Ford Motor Co. Wednesday at a regular meeting of the company's board of directors.

Henry Ford II, who was formerly president, was named board chairman and chief executive officer with full responsibility for the general management of the company, with particular emphasis on corporate policy and planning.

McNamara's responsibilities will rest primarily in operations. The new arrangement gives Ford an executive setup very similar to that of the giant of the auto industry, General Motors.

The office of board chairman has been vacant since Ernest R. Breech resigned from the post in July. Ford has served as president and chief executive officer since 1945 and has served in the dual capacity of president and board chairman since Breech's resignation to go into "semi-retirement."

GRAIN, FLOUR FIRMS TALK MERGER
TORONTO (CP)—A possible merger that would form one of Canada's biggest firms in the grain, feed, flour and packaged goods business is being discussed by Toronto Elevators Limited and Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, it was reported Tuesday.

J. D. Leitch, president of Toronto Elevators, said the main purpose of amalgamation would be economic.

Bank Rate Unchanged

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada interest rate held almost unchanged Wednesday at 3.46 per cent compared with last week's 3.47 rate following the sale of $95,000,000 in 92-day government treasury bills.

The rate, an indicator of conditions in the short-term money market, thus interrupted the recent rise of more than 1 1/2 percentage points from the two-year low of 1.93 per cent on Sept. 22.

Volunteer Firemen Learn No Protection by WCA

NORTH COWICHAN—Volunteer firemen who thought they were covered under the Workmen's Compensation Act while fighting fires have learned differently.

Coun. William Bowles Wednesday reported on a meeting with WCB representative Len McLennan attended, by district fire chiefs in which coverage of the act was outlined.

Coun. Bowles told council that certain inconsistencies in the act prior to last year had rightly led most volunteer fire departments to believe they were fully covered. In 1959, however, the board adopted a new "hard and fast" policy.

LIMITATION
This is that only firemen covered at their regular place of employment receive "time loss" compensation, based on regular employment salary, plus the valuation made by the municipality, up to a maximum of $5,000 a year.

If a volunteer fireman is retired from his regular employment, unemployed or self-employed or employed in an industry that is not covered under the Compensation Act, he would receive full medical benefits, death benefits and dependent allowance but his "time loss" compensation would be based only on the value at which the municipality assessed volunteer firemen.

Mr. Bowles noted, however, that if an individual conscripted off the street by the fire chief to assist in fighting a fire is injured, he would be covered by the act.

LAKE COWICHAN—Following several months of negotiations with the B.C. Forest Products, Ltd., the Department of Transport and village council, the Kinsmen Club has been given the green light to build a boat launching ramp at the east end of the lake.

The concrete ramp, long sought by the district's fishing and boating enthusiasts, will be constructed between B.C. Forest Products weir and the government wharf, on property donated to the club by the lumber firm.

Property surrounding the ramp will be developed, proper access roads put in and possibly, in the future, a picnic site added. Initial work on the project has started with trees and brush already cleared from the area.

Bob Wilkin is club project chairman.

A Duncan motel Wednesday won top prize from the Auto Courts and Resorts Association.

ILLEGAL DEER HUNTERS WARNED OF FATALITY

DUNCAN—This fall's changeable weather is only partly responsible for poor deer hunting so far this season.

Duncan game warden Bill Fowkes said today that two unlawful practices on the increase here and elsewhere have contributed to one of the poorest seasons in years.

These were pit lamping and hunting from cars.

"Both are against the law and both practices unfortunately are on the increase," he said.

Many deer are being wounded by pit-lampers and many more are being made "skittish and wary."

DEATH PREDICTED

The practice of carrying loaded firearms in and hunting from cars was also on the increase. "And if this doesn't stop, I predict that there will be a death in the car or in the home sooner or later this season."

He predicted good hunting for the last two or three weeks of the season which ends Dec. 4 "providing we get some rain and snow."

Funeral for former assistant ranger Cuthbert Osmond Bodman, 2619 Sooke, will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in St. John's Church, Colwood, with burial in the Colwood cemetery.

The former B.C. Forest Service employee died Wednesday aged 40.

He had lived and worked for many years in the Langford-Colwood area before retiring in 1955. He had been assistant ranger at Langford.

Survivors include the widow, Irene; three sons, Alan, Geoffrey and Philip, and 11 grandchildren.

Remembrance Day Services Around Island

All major Vancouver Island centres will honor their war dead Friday.

At Sidney, the parade will move off from the post office at 10.40 a.m. and march to the cenotaph. If the weather is bad, the service will be held in Sanscha Hall.

At Ladysmith, Legion president J. V. Platt will officiate at cenotaph ceremonies, assisted by padre of Branch 171, Rev. Ronald Bulteel.

At Parksville, Walter E. Barnum will be parade marshal and the cenotaph service will be conducted by Rev. John Stainer, assisted by Dr. Peter Kelly.

A masquerade party will be held in the Legion Hall in the evening.

CENOTAPH MOVED

George Anderson will be parade marshal at Alberni and observances will include laying of wreaths in Alberni's Greenwood cemetery and at Port Alberni cenotaph.

At Campbell River, annual Remembrance Day Service will be held in the community hall instead of at the cenotaph as the cenotaph was recently moved to the new Tye Plaza, not yet completed.

A dance will be held in the Legion Hall in the evening. Similar observances are scheduled elsewhere.

OVER-EAGER

Crosswalk In Wrong Location

CHEMAINUS — Attention Highway Minister P. A. Gallagher!

Chemainus Chamber of Commerce would like to point out that provincial works crews here are hard-working—but perhaps a little over-anxious to please.

About six months ago, the chamber requested a crosswalk for school children at the corner of the Trans-Canada Highway and Henry Road. The works crews recently installed a crosswalk all right, but three-quarters of a mile north of where it was sought, at Trans-Canada and Rivers Road.

"We'd probably have needed one there eventually anyway," said chamber president James Webster "but we still need one where we originally asked for it because this busy intersection is well used by children going and coming from school."

The chamber will re-submit its original request to the department of highways.

Reeve Opposes Sports Budget

NORTH COWICHAN—Provisional 1961 budget of North Cowichan Sports Council was tentatively approved by municipal council Wednesday despite repeated objections by Reeve D. C. Morton.

The provisional budget, presented by Coun. Tony Staples, allocates $4,200 for development of recreational areas and facilities in the municipality next year.

The budget provides for the following work: Chemainus, 28 acres to be set aside in North Chemainus for a playing field, survey charges, $200; Crofton, completion of community ball park, $2,000; Maple Bay, top fill for field and base for tennis court, $800; Soanemo, seeding and top dressing for playing field, $200; general development, $1,000.

Reeve Morton questioned the amount budgeted for work at Crofton. "On this basis, something like $10,000 should be spent on the south end of the municipality. You must remember that the taxpayers in the south end are paying a big portion of this."

He didn't agree with the idea of a tennis court at Maple Bay either, and noted that other courts in the district were little used. The reeve felt the program should be given more detailed consideration.

Defending the proposed budget, Councillor Staples said that the sports council had made a moderate start this year and he felt the works should be continued.

IF RIFLE WILL RASSLE THE PAY WILL BE GOOD

MONTREAL (UPI) — Promoter Eddie Quinn has offered ex-Montreal Alouettes football club quarterback Sam Etcheverry a minimum $25,000 a year guarantee if he will become a professional wrestler.

Quinn also put in a bid for Etcheverry last year. But the quarterback, who has been traded by the Montreal Alouettes to the Hamilton, Ont., Tiger-Cats, turned him down then.

The record book says that William Hobbs is retired, but you'd never guess it from the way he's been working the past few weeks.

Heading toward his 71st birthday, Hobbs has helped organize a lot of recreational and community projects since he retired from the RCMP in 1949.

But he's never been as enthusiastic over any undertaking as he is about his current pet project—the "Little Grey Cup" football game. Scheduled at Royal Athletic Park on Nov. 23, the juvenile pigskin clash will send a Victoria-all-star club against the Winnipeg Rams. Although this first game can't be rated officially as a championship tussle, it is hoped that the idea will expand into an annual east-west final for 18-and-under grid clubs.

Enthusiasm greeting the "Little Grey Cup" idea in other cities suggests that it could become a true western final next season and may eventually expand into a Canadian title game.

Launching such a project is a time-consuming chore and Hobbs, handling just about all the arrangements, has been busy as an ant at a picnic, tolling six days a week in his efforts to ensure success of the venture.

His biggest worry, of course, is money and it will take around $2,000 to cover all expenses. The Jaycees are helping out in the sale of tickets, which also go on sale at the sporting goods department at Eaton's next Monday.

Prices for the tickets are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children, which seems an inexpensive fee for what promises to be an interesting afternoon's entertainment.

A member of the Saskatchewan Provincial Police before he switched to an RCMP uniform, Hobbs has long been interested in activities for boys. Before coming to Victoria, he organized and supported for four years a boys' band in Regina and later organized another boys' band in Vermilion, Alta.

He was stationed at Victoria for the first time in 1941 and it didn't take him long to decide where he wanted to live when he retired.

Perhaps it's a bit of treason for a former soccer centre-forward to rate another sport above the round-ball pastime, but Hobbs is sold on Canadian football.

"This football is just about the best game of all," he says. "It creates wonderful comradeship and team spirit. And the adherence to rules is strictly kept. It gives fine training for boys, both physically and mentally."

"Some people think it is a dangerous game, but others are just as rough—I had my leg broken twice and almost lost an eye while playing soccer."

Hobbs doesn't claim any credit for the idea of a "Little Grey Cup" game. That he gives to Lorne Heath and Pat Gingell. But he's as enthusiastic about the project as if it was his own.

"It's going to mean a lot to the little fellows," he says. "It gives them an added incentive to play football, because they'll be hoping to play in 'Little Grey Cup' games of the future."

FOR FIGURE FILBERTS: Bill Hawrylak, chief statistician for the Western Interprovincial Football Union, says that this year he is adding defensive statistics to his set of WIFU figures, comparing each team with others in the league. He expects to have his annual release ready for mailing next week. For fans interested in the statistical part of the game, copies of final WIFU figures may be obtained for $1 from WIFU Statistics, 1942 Hamilton Avenue, Regina.

Royal Oaks Place Win Skein on Line

A battle of the undefeated is shaping up for Friday's exhibition soccer match at Royal Athletic Park.

Royal Oak of Vancouver, unbeaten in seven straight games, meet Victoria All-Stars who haven't lost a home game in three years.

Clown Cagers Win and Please

Harlem Clowns wound up a two-day antic-filled exhibition stand here Wednesday with a 70-60 victory over Victoria Optimists junior men's team at Central Junior High.

In the preliminary bantam game First United beat St. Louis College 43-33.

Swim Gala Saturday

Annual championship gala of the Victoria "Y" Swimming Club will be held Saturday at Crystal Garden pool. Some 35 events in five age brackets begin at 6:45 p.m.

... But Please Don't Ask Us How You Can Get Tickets

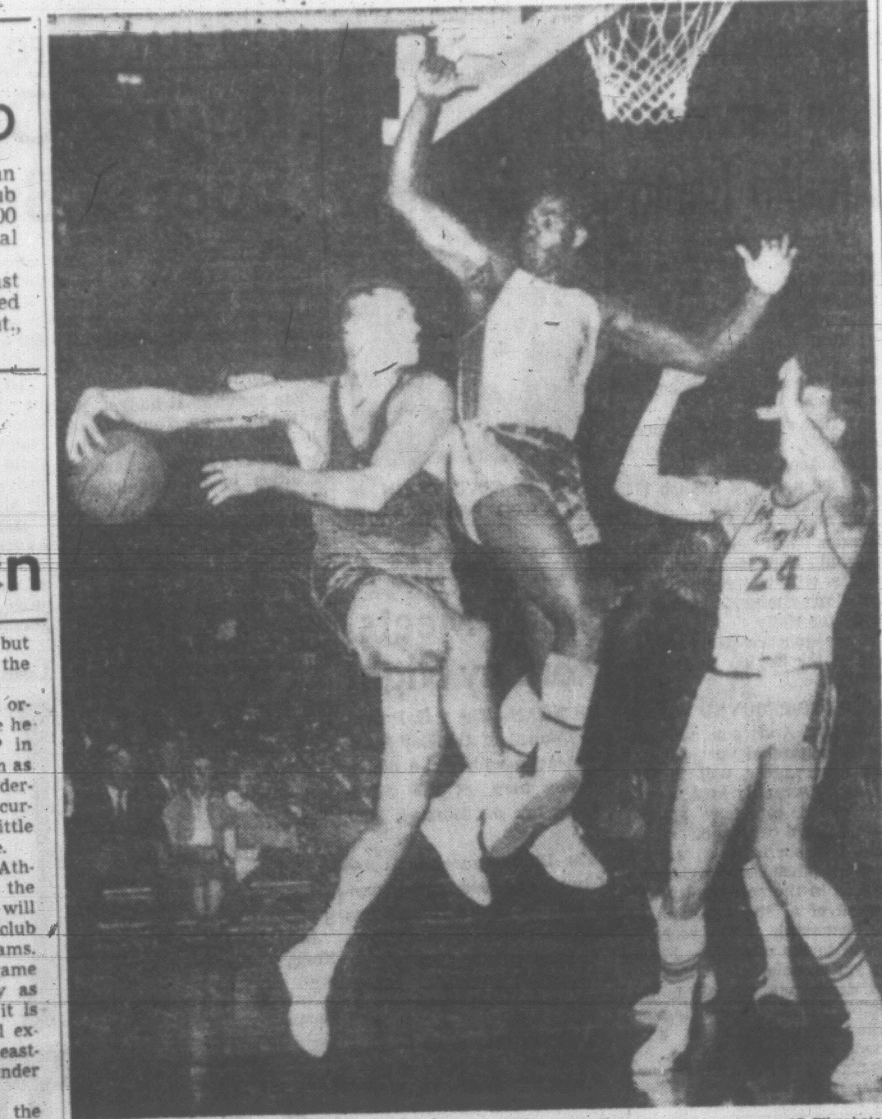

REGINA (CP)—Vancouver will get almost three-eighths of all the Grey Cup tickets.

Grey Cup ticket distribution was outlined by Bob Gillies, Western Interprovincial Football Union secretary.

Seventy-five per cent of the tickets go to the league which has the park where the East-West final is played. Thus 75 per cent goes to the WIFU as the game will be played in Vancouver Nov. 26.

The Big Four gets the other 25 per cent.

The WIFU will split its share thus:

Glenn Back in Groove And Hawks Back on Top

By The Canadian Press

Goalie Glenn Hall came through with a shutout performance Wednesday night to lead Chicago Black Hawks back into first place in the National Hockey League.

Hall, the NHL's all-star goalie for the last three seasons, had found the going rough in Chicago's five previous games—allowing 22 goals. But Wednesday night the mild, soft-spoken goaltender was back in top form, stopping 29 shots in blanketing Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 at Chicago.

The victory pushed the Black Hawks into a one-point lead in the standings over Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings, tied for second spot.

The surprising Red Wings scored three times in less than six minutes in the third period to turn a seemingly sure defeat into a 4-3 triumph over the Rangers at New York in the league's only other scheduled game.

Chicago now has 18 points while the Canadiens and Wings have 17. Toronto dropped three points off the pace with 15 points. Boston Bruins are fifth with 12 and the Rangers, losing their third game in a row, are in the cellar with nine points.

SECOND SHUTOUT

Hall's shutout was his second of the season—most by an NHL goalie this year. Bobby Hull, the league's scoring champion last season, got his eighth goal with a blast from the blue line. Defenceman Elmer "Moose" Vasko got the second goal.

The Red Wings' victory marked the second time in less than a week they had to come from behind with at least three goals in the third period to win.

They trailed 3-1 as late as 12:45 of the third period. Then the fireworks started.

Alex Delvecchio let go a 40-foot screened shot that eluded Lorne "Gump" Worsley, back in the nets after missing two games with a back injury.

GETS FIFTH GOAL
Parker MacDonald scored his fifth goal of the season less than four minutes later, skating behind the net and slipping an angle shot past Worsley.

Defenceman Pete Goegan got the winner with less than two minutes to go.

Murray Oliver scored Detroit's first goal in the opening period while Brian Cullen, Camille Henry and Dean Prentice got the Rangers goals.

Home-Run Power Helps Giants Win

HIROSHIMA (AP)—Two big home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped San Francisco Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

TURKEY WINNERS
Mrs. Fred Briggs, 118-36-77; Mrs. J. Gillan, 95-18-77; and Mrs. C. H. Harrell, 90-13-77, were winners of this week's turkey competition for women at the Uplands Golf Club.

Moro One Short Of Comet Total

Cougar Rally Just Misses Against Spokane

Jim Moro, who is thriving on a change of hockey diet, will be trying to make his scoring total a little fatter at Memorial Arena Friday.

Moro, the fleet winger who always performed on the right flank before coming to the Victoria Cougars, was shuffled over to the port side because the Cats were overloaded with starboard snipers.

The change has been like a shot in the arm for the 26-year-old forward who scored only 11 goals in 43 Western Hockey League games with Calgary last season.

Moro was bombing in big-league style at Spokane Wednesday night. He collected three goals to boost his total to six for the young season.

SECOND TRIUMPH

The only trouble was that Jim was the only Cougar who was able to find the range against the Comets, who made an early lead stand up for a 4-3 victory.

It was only the second triumph of the reason for the Comets, who have chalked up both wins on home ice, and both of them against the Cougars.

Cougars, who have returned the compliment by beating Spokane twice at Memorial Arena, will be trying to keep the record straight Friday night when they tackle the Comets in a return bout at Memorial Arena.

FLYERS WIN

In Wednesday's other WHL tussle, Edmonton Flyers moved four points out in front of the four clubs deadlocked in second place by nipping Seattle Totems 5-4 at Edmonton.

Cougars, showing the effects of their rugged battle at Vancouver Tuesday, in which they tripped the Canucks 3-1, got untracked too late at Spokane.

"The boys found their legs too late," said coach George Agar. "We had it all over them in the third period, but couldn't get enough shots into the net."

Comets were in front, 2-1, at the end of the first period and stretched the margin to 4-1 after six minutes of the third session. Cougars caught fire in the final 10 minutes and several times came within a whisker of forcing overtime.

MISSING BY INCHES

Moro had the tying goal within his grasp in the closing exchanges. He broke in on goal, pulled goalie Cesare Maniago out of position, and then had the puck roll off the end of his stick, missing the net by inches.

Missing Wednesday's game was Bill Saunders, who played his first game with the Cats at Vancouver Tuesday and picked up an ankle sprain in the third period.

The injury was just one of four suffered by the Cats on the two-game road jaunt. Goalie Marcel Pelletier collected a five-stitch cut over an eye at Vancouver. On Wednesday Moro needed eight stitches to patch up his right ear and rookie Bert Fizzell acquired four stitches over an eye.

Scoring for Comets were Forbes Kennedy, Bev Bell, Colin Kilburn and Steve Wituk.

Friday's game starts at 8:30.

Vic High Runners Facing Big Test

The Victoria High cross-country corporation of John Valliant and Company could encounter its toughest test of the season in Pacific Northwest cross-country championships.

The event takes place Saturday as part of University of British Columbia's homecoming weekend.

The three-mile jaunt will start and finish on the UBC track and the defending Vics will be up against one of the toughest fields ever assembled in this area.

Trade Offer Amazed Jake

MONTREAL (CP) — A rift that first appeared in the Montreal Alouettes football camp six weeks ago blew wide open Wednesday when the Al's traded two of the Canadian game's greatest players to Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Alouettes, in a deal that rocked Montreal football fans like a bombshell, sent quarterback Sam Etcheverry and end Hal Patterson to the Ti-Cats.

They got quarterback Bernie Faloney and defensive end Don Paquette, a 21-year-old Canadian, in return.

A player disagreement with Perry Moss, general manager and head coach, and reported dissension among the Al's themselves this season, were believed to be the main reasons for the swap.

The deal was completed by Ted Workman, Alouette president, and Jake Gaudaur, president of the Ti-Cats.

"Frankly, I never dreamed the Alouettes were interested in getting rid of Etcheverry. I was astounded when he was offered to me for Faloney," Gaudaur said.

"I always regarded Sam as one of the greatest quarterbacks in the country."

Asked who suggested Patterson for Paquette, Gaudaur said: "It wasn't me."

"I couldn't have dreamed of such an idea. But I sure jumped at the idea."

Etcheverry, 30, and with the Al's nine seasons, was known to have been at loggerheads with Moss, 33-year-old rookie coach.

Only last Saturday, follow-

Bud Won't Let Bombers Use Their Long Undies

LIVING DANGEROUSLY
Luck was on side of Jack Rounds, who throws up hands as his car, one wheel off, flips through air after hitting stalled machine in 100-mile race at Sacramento. Gene Force, driving at top speed, watches. Rounds was hospitalized, but miraculously was not seriously injured.

EDMONTON (CP) — "All we've got to do is beat one of the two best teams in Canada at least twice," says Edmonton Eskimo head coach Eagle Keys. "And, then we are what we say we are — Canada's best ball club, and the Bombers are second best."

He was talking about the best of three Western Interprovincial Football Union final playoff series against the league and defending Canadian champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers that opens in Edmonton Saturday at 1:05 p.m. PST.

The second game will be played in Winnipeg Monday, starting at 6:30 p.m. PST. A third game, if necessary, will go at Winnipeg Saturday, Nov. 19.

The winner will meet the winner of the Big Four Football League final playoffs in Vancouver Nov. 26 for the Canadian championship.

COLD WEATHER
Neither the Blue Bombers nor the Eskimos are using their stadium fields for practices. Winnipeg is working out daily at nearby St. Boniface and the Eskimos are running their scrimmages at a field adjacent to their home Clarke Stadium.

Both are getting ready for forecast cold weather with coach Bud Grant working his Bombers without either gloves or the added warmth of long underwear.

"Playoffs here are always played under these kind of conditions, and they have to get used to it," he says. Keys says he only knows it's going to be cold.

MAY USE SNEAKERS
Keys has suggested that if the ground is frozen he may dress his team out in sneakers for better footing whereas snow would tend to leave the players wearing their regular cleats.

Farrell Funston will probably be the only regular Blue Bomber not in action in the series opener. He is expected to be replaced as offensive end by Norm Rauhaus with Vernon Cole taking over at safety. Funston is out with a shoulder separation.

Eskimos are having worries about their twin fullbacks Johnny Bright and Normie Kwong. Kwong has severely bruised ribs and Bright aggravated a chronic shoulder injury in the last semifinal game against the Calgary Stampeders.

Bombers whipped through regular 90-minute practice session at St. Boniface Wednesday night on a frozen snow-covered field. Some players wore sneakers as the 13-degree temperatures hardened the ground, making footing for regular football cleats uncertain.

"We're working on the same things we've been using all year — there aren't any secrets," said Grant.

MARIS EDGES MANTLE IN MVP AWARD RACE

BOSTON (AP) — Slugging outfielder Roger Maris Wednesday was named the American League's most valuable player for 1960, edging his New York Yankees' teammate Mickey Mantle by three votes.

The prize trade acquisition from Kansas City collected 225 points in his first season with the league champions to Mantle's 222.

Results of the balloting were the second closest in the history of the award given annually since Lefty Grove was named in 1931.

In 1947, Joe DiMaggio got the nod over Ted Williams, 202-201.

More Fan Support Would Help Boys

The cost of providing baseball for boys of this city amounted to nearly $4,000 last year.

Lack of fans at games has forced the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association to rely on bingo games, raffles and similar money-raising projects for several years.

This picture was displayed at the association's annual general meeting Wednesday night in a financial report showing the group's bank balance dropping from $3,836.27 to $176.22 over the past season.

The association is not a governing body for any of the Victoria leagues but was formed to give financial assistance to all groups from Little League to senior amateur.

LOSS EXPECTED
Officials said a loss was anticipated since they haven't been in the black since forming in 1948, but the amount of the deficit was alarming.

However, it was reported that the biggest loss of last season was suffered by Victoria's entry in the Pacific Northwest Baseball League — $4,335.90.

Despite work by the association, lack of support for the game in Victoria has hampered development of young players.

DROP PLANS
As a result the association decided to drop suggested plans to enter a team in the semi-professional Northwest League.

"It would take $15,000 at an absolute minimum," said committee chairman Wally Thomson, first president of the group, "and, let's face it, in

Mount View Stretches Fine Defensive Streak

It was shutout day in the Inter-High School Soccer League Wednesday but the king of them all was still Mount View.

All three games played ended in duck eggs for the losers, but the Views extended their unscored-on streak to six games.

The league-leading team blanked Royal Oak 4-0 and have not allowed a goal all season.

PRESSURE PAYS OFF
Al Boden scored in the first half but in the second frame Mount View pressure paid off.

And Boden again tallied with a picture goal by tipping in Bjorn Staverum's pass.

Vern Pratt hit the net from a sharp angle and Ken Piercy accounted for the winners' final goal.

At Esquimalt, Victoria High was led by a fine hat-trick performance by Ashbjorn Walddal and two goals by Fred Potts in a 5-0 win over the home club.

Vic High's goalie John Paul was a standout and capped his efforts with a difficult save after Esquimalt's Dan Bule had broken through Vics' defence.

In the final contest of the afternoon Mount Douglas climbed out of last place in league standings and dumped Milnes Landing in the cellar with a 3-0 whitewash of the visitors.

Barry Cosier, Bob Thomas and Jim Emery handled scoring chores for Mount Douglas in an evenly played match against the improving Milnes men.

EIGHT CANADIANS

Leos Place Three On All-Star Clubs

EDMONTON (CP) — Eight Canadians are among 24 players named to the 1960 Western Interprovincial Football Union all-star team.

Two are offensive guards and the others make up more than half the defensive team. Only four Canadians were named in 1959, one on offence and three on defence.

The team was chosen by sports writers and football broadcasters in league cities. Balloting was weighted to give all five cities equal voting strength.

The Canadians named are Tony Pajackowski of Calgary, Cornell Piper of Winnipeg, Harvey Wylie of Calgary, Norm Fieldgate of B.C. Lions, Clare Exelby of Calgary, Bill Smith of Edmonton, Ron Archeson of Saskatchewan and Gordie Rowland of Winnipeg.

Wylie and Fieldgate are the only repeaters from last year.

JAMES MISSING
Notably absent is Canadian Gerry James of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, fullback and place-kicking specialist who won the league scoring title this season with 114 points and 10 touchdowns, 32 converts, six field goals and four singles.

Selectors also moved Edmonton star Jackie Parker out of the star-studded halfback category and gave him plenty of votes as a quarterback. He has been an all-star halfback every year since he came to Canada from Mississippi State College in 1954. He was third in the league scoring race this year with 107 points, two behind B.C.'s Willie Fleming.

The Blue Bombers, who ended up in first place in the regular season league race, placed seven men on the team. Calgary Stampeders placed six, Edmonton Eskimos five and B.C. Lions and Saskatchewan Roughriders three each.

Three selections were unanimous — Fleming, Earl Lunsford of Calgary and Pajackowski. Winnipeg's Herb Gray missed a unanimous choice for defensive end by one ballot.

In addition to Fleming and Fieldgate, B.C.'s other all-star player was tackle Urban Henry.

The teams:
OFFENCE
Quarterback — Jackie Parker, Edmonton.
Halfbacks — Willie Fleming, B.C., and Leo Lewis, Winnipeg.
Fullbacks — Earl Lunsford, Calgary, and John Bright, Edmonton.
Ends — Ernie Warlick, Calgary, and Ernie Pitts, Winnipeg.
Tackles — Frank Rigney, Winnipeg, and Roger Nelson, Edmonton.
Guard — Tony Pajackowski, Calgary, and Cornell Piper, Winnipeg.
Centre — Neil Hahig, Saskatchewan.

DEFENCE
Safety — Harvey Wylie, Calgary.
Halfbacks — Bill Smith, Edmonton, and Clare Exelby, Calgary.
Cornerback — Norm Fieldgate, B.C., and Gordie Rowland, Winnipeg.

VICTORY STYLE CHEERS SCOTS

GLASGOW (AP)—Scotland whipped Northern Ireland 5-2 in an international soccer match Wednesday with a brand of play that raised the Scots' hopes of qualifying for the World Cup finals in Chile in 1962.

The match was part of the British program involving Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales and England. England is leading followed by Wales and Scotland.

Nelson Is Newest Member Of 'Won't Quit' Puck Loop

BY CANADIAN PRESS
For the third time in less than a month a British Columbia senior hockey team has shaken off heavy financial burdens and reconsidered plans to disband.
The latest member of the "I won't quit club" is Nelson Maple Leafs of the Western Interprovincial League, one of two senior loops operating in the B.C. interior.
The Leafs threw in the towel last Sunday, saying financial problems made it impossible to continue operations after more than 50 years in organized hockey.
But Wednesday night 200 enthusiastic city residents refused to allow the club to fold and pledged full support in an all-out drive to give the Leafs a new foothold.
A 10-man booster club was formed and promised to raise $400 today toward costs of keeping the club in the league. It was estimated that at least $2,500 was needed to keep the Leafs going.
Four "top name players" were telephoned after the meeting by the club and were expected to be here tonight. Their names were not released.
Meanwhile, the neighboring Okanagan League held a directors' meeting at Vernon to re-vamp its schedule following withdrawal of its new Merritt entry. Merritt reverted to senior "B" status, blaming the high cost of signing senior players.
Earlier this season Kelowna Packers and Kamloops Chiefs overcame financial problems to remain in the league.

Meanwhile ... back at the office ...

... an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY* unit is answering his telephone. Today when you go out on business, you can put this ingenious device "on the payroll". It answers your phone, says how long you'll be away, and records the caller's message.

This automatic answering service is the clear rig for any business that wants its phone answered when the office is empty. Many firms use it to provide 24 hour service for customers. They switch the unit on at 5 p.m., and next morning attend to the calls it received during the evening.

Other companies use the ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit strictly for their own employees. Out-of-town salesmen phone into head office at night when long distance rates are lowest. A special version of the unit answers the phone and records while the salesman transmits his day's orders.

*Reg. Canadian Patent Office

The unit is compact, attractive, easy to use. And it's rented. Costs as little as a pack of cigarettes a day. No depreciation or maintenance. B.C. Telephone keeps it in perfect condition.

Are your office communications as modern as your business? Our representative can show you many ways to save time and money; help you sell. He'll plan a complete system to suit your requirements and your budget. He'll be seeing you soon ... sooner if you make an appointment through our new Marketing and Sales Department.

Want to know more about our ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit? Phone us. In Vancouver it's MU 3-5511. Outside Vancouver, ask the Operator for Zenith 7000. (No charge for the call.) We'll send you an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit brochure right away.

Canada at Nuclear Ready If Disarmament Fails

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Defence Minister Harkness said today that while disarmament negotiations are going on the Canadian government is taking the precaution of training forces for nuclear warfare and making arrangements to secure carriers capable of delivering nuclear warheads of a defensive nature.

Canada has committed itself to obtaining the Honest John ground-to-ground missile and the Bomarc missile for defence against manned bombers. Both are capable of being armed with nuclear warheads.

The Honest John would be supplied to the Canadian infantry brigade now in training in Europe. Two Bomarc bases are being built in Canada, one in Ontario and one in Quebec and it is expected the Bomarc missiles will be available late next year.

CLARIFIES POSITION

During his 8,600-mile flight to Britain and through Europe last week to tour the brigade and air division, Mr. Harkness participated in discussions on the need for nuclear weapons. The question of control of nuclear weapons and making NATO a fourth nuclear power was also discussed during meetings he had with British, French, German and NATO officials.

In interviews while abroad he spoke of the need for nuclear weapons but said the question of nuclear weapons for Canadian forces is "still up in the air." On his return to Ottawa this week he issued his statement today clarifying his position on the question of nuclear weapons.

"The Canadian government is making every possible effort to secure an agreement on disarmament; and our policy on nuclear arms is related directly to this fact.

"If disarmament efforts are successful, Canada will not need nuclear arms.

"If they are not successful the only hope of preventing war will be a western world at least as powerful as the communist world. The latter is well known to possess nuclear weapons of all types, and NATO similarly armed are essential to maintain the deterrent to war.

"While disarmament negotiations are going on, prudence and good sense dictate that preparations have to continue to be made in case no agreement is arrived at.

"This involves training forces for nuclear warfare and securing, or making arrangements to secure, the carriers which could be used to deliver nuclear warheads of a defensive nature," he said.

ALASKA BACKS FERRY LINK WITH B.C.

JUNEAU, Alaska (CP)—The most controversial of six bond issues put to Alaska voters Tuesday appears headed for approval.

It would authorize $23,000,000 worth of bonds to construct two big ferry boats to run between Prince Rupert, B.C., and Haines, Alaska, and another to operate from Kodiak Island to the mainland, plus ferry terminals and $5,000,000 or more in road construction funds.

The bond issue had been opposed by many of the candidates for the state legislature.

The vote on this proposition stood this morning at 29,099 in favor and 16,207 opposed, with ballots counted from 199 of 300 precincts.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Leaders of the Pacific Ocean fishing industries have a saying that when Kenkichi Nakabe speaks, "All Japan bows and the fish of the seven seas tremble."

It is said with a bit of a smile, but there is a basis of truth in it.

For Mr. Nakabe, 65-year-old Japanese fishing emperor, and his family-control the biggest fish company in the world, the Taiyo Fisheries, whose gross income last year was about $160,000,000.

No species of commercially valuable fish in the high seas are safe from his ultra-modern fleet of 750 ships.

At present, three of his whaling fleets are nearing fishing grounds in the Antarctic. Each contains a factory ship, 12 catcher boats and four to five refrigerated transporters.

WHALES TO MINK

Everything from whales to mink, hotels and shipyards are in the Nakabe empire.

Mr. Nakabe is chairman of the Japanese section of the International Pacific Fisheries Commission, meeting in Vancouver this week to iron out fishing problems in the Pacific involving Japan, Canada and the United States.

The Nakabe family had three boats and a staff of 12 when Mr. Nakabe's grandfather told his 15-year-old son in 1880: "It is time you took over."

Today, besides his 750 fishing vessels with a total tonnage of 200,000 and bases around the world, Kenkichi Nakabe and his family have five shipyards, one capable of building ships up to 100,000 tons; a hotel and restaurant developed as a fishermen's club; and 20 big plants for fruit and vegetable canning, ice making and cold storage.

In recent months he started mink farming with the aid of an American expert. Last month Mr. Nakabe reported $500,000 worth of "breeding mink."

DA Investigates Second Finch Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The district attorney will investigate reports by three jurors that Finch murder trial jury No. 2 reached a partial verdict once but was directed by the judge to continue deliberating. Three jurors said the panel agreed after 1½ weeks to convict Dr. R. Bernard Finch, of second-degree murder and to declare itself deadlocked on the murder charge against Carole Tregoff.

They said Judge LeRoy Dawson sent word that they should continue to try to agree on a verdict against Miss Tregoff. The defendants are accused in the gunshot death of Finch's wife.

The jury was discharged Monday after saying it was deadlocked. The first trial of the physician and his ex-mistress also ended in a deadlock.

"If there was a breakdown of communications between the jury and the court, that would be a very serious matter and could be the basis for prosecution," said District Attorney William B. McKesson Wednesday. He did not indicate who might be prosecuted.

SAMMY, MAY TO WED IN HOLLYWOOD SUNDAY

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and blonde actress May Britt took out a marriage licence Wednesday so they can be married on Sunday.

Davis, 34, said the ceremony would be held at his Hollywood home with singer Frank Sinatra as the best man. A rabbi will perform the nuptials for Davis and Miss Britt, 26, both converts to Judaism.

It will be the second marriage for both.

CRASH HATS ORDERED Hunter Trials On In Rain or Shine

Victoria Riding Club's Remembrance Day hunter trials and horse show will be presented "rain or shine" on Friday starting at 1:30 p.m.

Show manager Don Carley said today the grounds where the show will take place, fields off Cedar Hill Cross Road between Finnelly and Gordon Head roads, "can take a lot more rain without becoming treacherous" for riding.

Although he is not worrying about footing for the jumping events, which include a mile and one-quarter cross-country race over 21 obstacles, Mr. Carley is insisting on competitors wearing "hard hats" for protection in the event of a fall.

"No competitor will be allowed to ride in the jumping events without proper head gear," he said. "As far as I am concerned that is a must for jumpers no matter what the conditions might be."

PLANNER JOLTS REALTORS

City Beautiful? Partly

Victoria's reputation as a beautiful city is only partly true. Brahm Wiesman, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, said Wednesday.

He gave the Victoria Real Estate Board, Douglas Street north of the Fountain Circle as an example of ugliness.

"Who can be proud of this entrance to our city?" he asked.

Victorians do not worry unduly about their environment he said. Too much mediocrity had dulled their sense and perception of their environment.

MORE TREES NEEDED

A considerable amount has been achieved by the signs by law but it is not enough to improve the approaches to the city, he said.

There was a need for more trees to be planted, Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt were doing this now though he did not know how many trees had been planted in Saanich.

Mr. Wiesman also called for more regional parks and an end to what he termed "The Alice in Wonderland approach" to subdividing.

Suggesting an urban renewal, he claimed there were blighted and depressed streets in the region.

TRAFFIC TROUBLES
Norman Worsley, assistant city engineer of traffic and surveys, outlined Victoria's traffic problems.

When travelling by train, ship or plane, people started from a terminal and went directly to another terminal, he said.

Publications Probe Sets Hearing Dates

OTTAWA (CP)—The royal commission on publications today scheduled public hearings in eight Canadian cities, beginning Monday and ending in mid-January.

The initial hearings will open in Ottawa Monday and the commission will return to the capital for sittings Dec. 19-22 and Jan. 9-12.

Other hearings include Vancouver Nov. 21-22.

ALL-NIGHT OWL RALLY BY MOTOR SPORTS CLUB

Works Minister W. N. Chant will officiate at start of the annual all-night Owl Rally, Saturday, of Victoria Motor Sports Club.

The 12-hour event gets underway at 7.30 p.m. from in front of the legislative buildings.

Set speeds are assigned competitors and winners are cars that incur the fewest penalty points for arriving early or late at check points.

The route will cover about 300 miles.

CHOIR GOT INTO ACT

Boos, Lunchbags Greet Strachan

College Correspondent

CCF Leader Robert Strachan met a stormy reception when he addressed Victoria college students Wednesday.

During his hour-long speech he was cheered, booed, heckled and, at one point, pelted with streamers and paper lunch bags. Throughout the meeting, he had to compete with the college choir, which was rehearsing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah, on the floor above.

Mr. Strachan claimed that the last provincial election showed the CCF party's appeal was rising in B.C.

A student asked why he had not replied to a challenge from Liberal leader Ray Perrault to a debate.

Mr. Strachan said such a debate would be like a fight between a skunk and an elephant—nobody would know if the skunk had been fighting an elephant, but everybody would know that the elephant had been fighting a skunk.

That's when a group of students let fly with a paper barrage at Mr. Strachan.

Chokes to Death

TOKYO (Reuters) — The chief of the Indian air force staff, Air Marshal Subroto Mukerjee, choked to death Tuesday night while eating Japanese food in a hotel here, the Indian Embassy announced Wednesday.

Mukerjee, 49, had arrived in Japan only a few hours earlier.

TV Debate In Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — The three leading contenders for the Japanese premiership will debate foreign policy and domestic issues Saturday in the nation's first televised debate on such a scale.

Youth Convicted In 'Card Shooting'

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — An 18-year-old youth accused of shooting a companion after cutting cards to see "who shoots who" was found guilty Wednesday of criminal negligence, Sydney Pettit, of Port Arthur, was remanded until Tuesday for sentence. The jury which returned the guilty verdict accompanied its verdict with a "strong recommendation for leniency."

UN UNITS CONTINUE SEARCH

Second Irish Soldier Survives Congo Ambush

ELISABETHVILLE (AP) — A second soldier has survived the rebel ambush of an 11-man Irish patrol serving with the United Nations force in the Congo.

The second survivor was found Wednesday night near the scene of the ambush in a northern area of breakaway Katanga province, a UN spokesman announced. Apparently the Irish soldier was wounded, but not badly.

The mutilated bodies of five of the ambush victims were found by an Irish search party Wednesday, and an Irish-Ethiopian patrol found three additional bodies today.

Identification was made almost impossible, a UN spokesman said, by the injuries the men had received.

Heavily armed UN units began a pincer-movement search of the area, near the shores of Lake Tanganyika and about 400 miles northeast of Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

The 11 Irish soldiers were surrounded by about 100 Baluba tribesmen as the patrol was removing a roadblock on a bridge.

"This has often happened to boys in the past and they have always managed to talk their way out of tough spots," a sergeant of the Irish contingent said.

Members of the Baluba tribe in northern Katanga have been waging a guerrilla war against the central Congo government since provincial Premier Moise Tshombe, who repudiated the Congo became independent from Belgium June 30.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT WAS YOUNGEST PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John F. Kennedy, aged 43 years and nine months, is the youngest man ever elected president but he is not the youngest to ever hold that office.

Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest chief executive. He moved up to the White House from vice-president 43 days short of his 43rd birthday on Sept. 14, 1901, after President William McKinley was assassinated.

Roosevelt was elected to a four-year term in 1904, 13 days after his 40th birthday. Up until Kennedy's victory, Roosevelt was the youngest man elected to the White House.

'WAIT-AND-SEE'

Kennedy Victory May Benefit Us

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator John F. Kennedy's capture of the White House has raised hopes here for two favorable results for Canada—more Canadian exports to its southern neighbor and a more flexible United States foreign policy.

But authorities are taking a wait-and-see approach to other possible repercussions for Canada.

General expectations here are for a more flexible U.S. position in foreign affairs and perhaps a greater willingness to consult allies before taking action.

In the last eight years, especially before the death of John Foster Dulles, it has sometimes been felt here that the U.S. took a too-inflexible attitude on many aspects of foreign policy. A case in point has been U.S. policy toward Communist China.

In the trade field, positive results are expected to be felt in Canada if Senator Kennedy succeeds in his declared policy of taking government action to lift the U.S. economy from its present doldrums.

Some Pump-Priming Needed

Those doldrums have appeared in Canada, too, with slightly reduced exports to the U.S. Canada's biggest customer.

Authorities say that new expansionist policies at Washington, with greater government spending and easier money, would be likely to have an almost immediate impact on Canadian sales, especially of industrial raw materials.

Experts here see dangers, however, in too much economic pump-priming. They feel that if expansionist policies are pressed too far this could frighten investors, raise fears of inflation and thus depress the bond market as it was depressed last year.

As for American tariff policy, no basic difference is seen in the campaign positions taken by the two American party leaders.

One source, who said Democrats historically have been less protection-minded than the Republicans, said the Democrats might be expected to pursue a little more vigorously the liberal tariff approach that has prevailed in Washington since the war. However, with U.S. unemployment high, no sudden reduction in tariff barriers is expected.

In the vital field of North American defence the election raises some unanswered questions:

Will the Democrats be willing to make the North Atlantic alliance a nuclear power?

Will they be willing to place North American Air Defence under NATO?

Both Conservatives and Liberals said Vice-President Nixon had hurt his chance by agreeing to the joint television debates with Senator Kennedy because they lost Mr. Nixon his pre-debate position as the better-known candidate.

A Conservative strategist said Prime Minister Diefenbaker would never allow himself to get into the same situation.

PM WIRES CONGRATULATIONS

Dief May See Kennedy

By VICTOR J. MACKIE

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—There is a possibility Prime Minister John Diefenbaker may meet with president-elect John Kennedy before the new president of the United States is sworn into office, next January.

A personal message of "warm congratulations" was sent to Senator Kennedy Wednesday by the prime minister.

Mr. Diefenbaker was asked if there was any chance he would be meeting with the president-elect before Senator Kennedy took office.

"Oh yes, there is always that possibility. However, there is nothing definite in that regard as yet," Mr. Diefenbaker replied Thursday.

Mr. Diefenbaker has only met Senator Kennedy once. That was two years ago in Washington, he said.

DIEFENBAKER
... met him once

Asked how he regarded the prospect of Canada's future relations with the United States under the new Democratic regime, Mr. Diefenbaker smiled and replied, "Our relations are always good."

The text of the prime minister's message to Senator Kennedy was:

"I send you this personal message of warm congratulations on your success in Tuesday's election and all good wishes as you prepare to take up the heavy burdens of office. It is my confident expectation that the association between our countries will continue in the years to come to be based on friendly co-operation and mutual regard and that such problems as may arise from time to time will be dealt with in the spirit of good will which has prevailed in the past."

New Administration Won't Affect Columbia Scheme

OTTAWA (CP) — The outcome of the United States election is viewed here as unlikely to have any retarding effect on the recent Canada-U.S. deal for developing the Columbia River.

But it will probably mean that the United States will exercise its option to build the Libby Dam in northern Montana—one of the stickiest points in the long negotiations over the huge power and flood-control project.

Fair Group Asks Lawyer's Advice To Recover Cash

The British Columbia Agricultural Association Wednesday night decided to seek legal advice in its efforts to obtain $65,000 from the city.

The association, which needs money to put up some fair buildings at its 140-acre Colwood Exhibition Park property, claims the city owes it the money as an insurance settlement on the fire-damaged Willows Park fair grounds. The city has denied any obligation.

The BCAA directors also decided to employ a full-time secretary and apply for dates for an agricultural fair at Colwood Park.

Fleeing Cubans Held

HAVANA (Reuters) — The former chief of the Cuban Workers Confederation and 13 other persons were intercepted and arrested when they tried to flee to Miami on a yacht.

65 MILLION VOTES NEW U.S. RECORD

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 65,000,000 votes from the total cast in Tuesday's election already have been counted—a record for any election. The grand total of 65,276,109 compares with 62,025,576 votes cast in the 1956 election, the previous record.

The oldest parts of the cathedral at Llandaff in Wales date from about 1120.

...Egad! Students Make 1,385 Guineas

By GERALD SPENCER (Ab, actually) KENT

Oak Bay High School's most successful fall affair ever held (simply ripping, chaps) brought an estimated $4,000 to student activity coffers Wednesday night.

Based on the theme "Baron's Victoria," the fair featured Times cartoonist Sid Barron, "himself, in person (actually)" in a marathon autograph-signing stint at a booth where copies of his latest cartoon collection were on sale.

Scattered about the school gymnasium and sundry classrooms were any number of "Ye Olde Shoppes" specializing in tea, bean bag and basket ball pitches, books, tea, candy, home cooking, records, tea, baubles, bangles and beads in a boisterous confusion of customers and students whose regalia outstripped Barron's Victoria fair to fair.

The natives enjoyed it all hugely, from picking over a year's accumulation of rummage and casting their eyes over rosy-cheeked beatnik women in shaggy wool and shiny leotards, to taking a pint in refreshment stalls bearing the reminder "fortnightly smokeout at Joe's, 7 p.m. (great scott!)."

Winners of the best costume prizes will be selected tonight at a beaux arts ball where boas and wing collars are not so likely to be competing with crumpets and cake frosting (actually).

Represented in the open bread baking contest, but the winner was Mrs. S. Britt, 2434 Cranmore. Second and third were students Linda Bergstrom and Jim Ruskin.

A village choir urged "Come to the Fair" and described the zip-gun and bicycle chain motif of the "Teddy Boys Picnic" (egad), while a budding Gossie pleaded "We've Got to Keep Victoria British."

To make his point he wore pawd, mess kit and pith helmet common to these far-flung outposts (Poonah, Sookel), and to keep the whole thing sporting they gave away 200 gallons of furnace oil for first door prize.

Conveners of the affair were J. J. Camp for the students, and Mrs. J. Vining and E. Costain representing the school staff.

For the boys (students only) there was a cake-baking contest that produced such magnificent results first place was awarded to two entries, Paul Hutcheson and Gordon Vickery.

CARTOON-INSPIRED affair used Times cartoonist Sid Barron as feature attraction at central booth where he signed his name to dozens of copies of his second annual collection of newspaper cartoons. Judith Baines, left, as typical Oak Bay schoolgirl, helped sell the books to such likely customers as Mike Cullin, typical O.B. schoolboy.

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1960—PAGE 21

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Last of the 10 Yio-Yan Isle Kinsmen Club bus-stop benches has just been placed in Victoria's downtown area.

The benches cost the club $800, part of the proceeds from the 1959 boat show.

The city of Victoria made the benches and will maintain them. They are placed strategically where city workers and bus drivers had noticed elderly persons forced to stand while waiting for buses.

Scores of used bikes may become potential Christmas gifts. City council today was to decide on a request by city police commission for permission to sell the unclaimed bicycles currently overflowing available storage space. The police department proposes to auction the bikes early next month.

A charge of carrying a concealed knife, to which Donald R. Nelson pleaded not guilty, was dismissed in city police court today.

Magistrate William Ostler said there was reasonable doubt that the knife, worn in a belt sheath under Nelson's open coat, was concealed when he was stopped and searched by police at 6:25 a.m. on Cook near Hillside Tuesday.

Jack Chatfield, principal of Tolmie School, will discuss report cards when he speaks at the regular meeting of the school's PTA in the auditorium on Monday at 8 p.m.

The Pacific Command frigate Ste. Therese—not New Glasgow as incorrectly reported Wednesday—is at Victoria Machinery Depot's Bay Street plant for major refit.

New Glasgow came out of refit about six months ago.

Bookworms please note: Victoria Public Library will be closed for the Remembrance Day holiday on Friday. It will be open as usual on Saturday from 9 to 6.

City health committee today was to ask council for a third postponement of medical health officer Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy's retirement.

Dr. Mahaffy, under city regulations, was scheduled to retire a year ago but has been granted two postponements.

Health committee requested a further six-month extension to May 19 "by reason of extraordinary circumstances. It gave no further explanation.

Shoppers in the downtown area will now be able to make direct contributions to the Community Chest campaign at special booths set up at convenient points.

Booths are sited at Hudson's Bay, Eaton's, Bank of Montreal at Yates and Douglas and the Government Street branch, Toronto Dominion Bank at Yates and Douglas, Royal Bank of Canada and Canadian Bank of Commerce on Government and at City Hall.

Campaign fund jumped about $8,000 Wednesday to $23,000. $350,000 is needed.

J. R. Genge and Capt. W. R. Stacey were appointed Wednesday a special sub-committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to investigate the need for additional boat and floatplane mooring facilities in the Inner Harbor. Appointments were made at a meeting of the chamber's harbor and transportation committee.

The intermediate group of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Monterey Restaurant parking lot for a field trip to Triangle Mountain.

If weather is wet, a meeting will be held instead in the Provincial Museum at 7 p.m.

Miss Sheila Stewart and Miss Helen Becker will show colored slides of their recent world tour at a meeting of Burnside PTA in the school auditorium next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The Maritime Museum of B.C. will remain open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. as usual on the Remembrance Day holiday Friday.

The museum is on Esquimalt Road, at Signal Hill near HMC Dockyard.

Sons of Norway Lodge will show films from Norway at Norway House, 1117 Hillside, starting at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Mother Named Second Time To Lay Wreath

By TONY DICKASON

Memories of the fall of early 1944 are crowding close today on Mrs. Isabel Taylor.

They will culminate Friday, Remembrance Day, when she places a wreath on the Cenotaph base in front of the Legislative Buildings on behalf of bereaved mothers.

Her wreath will be the second to be laid in loving remembrance, following that of Lieutenant Governor G. R. Pearkes, V.C.

Mrs. Taylor is acting not only on her own behalf but for all mothers who lost sons in the two World Wars.

Ten years ago the Next-of-Kin Association in Greater Victoria started the annual placing of a wreath on the Cenotaph; she was chosen then to act for all.

This will be her second time. Mrs. Taylor's boy was a Scots guardsman, Alexander Taylor. He was killed in Italy Oct. 1, 1944, aged 24.

MEMENTOS KEPT Above the sofa on the wall of her small, tidy, two-room apartment at 1809 Fernwood, are the mementoes of her boy—a glass case containing five campaign ribbons, a commemorative script, and a picture showing a fine-looking young man of keen features and wavy hair.

This triptych constitutes memories of her British-born boy who never saw the Canada where his mother has lived 13 years.

Mrs. Taylor is white-haired, aged 68. "It is difficult... at this time," she said quietly.

Protesters' Park Corner Draws Its Own Protest

It finally happened. Speakers' corner—where soapbox orators may denounce almost everything under the sun—has itself been denounced.

The blast, against the corner's location in Beacon Hill Park, was made today by the Greater Victoria Conservation Council.

Forgoing a soapbox in favor of the more normal medium of a letter to carry its protest, the conservationists asked council to move the corner to save the grass.

Present location east of the deer pen has endangered indigenous and planted "flora"

CAVE CARVED IN DIM PAST TO BE SOUGHT

A group of Victoria men plan to launch a search this weekend for a cave believed to have been carved out of the side of a Vancouver Island mountain sometime in the distant past.

The cave, thought to be somewhere between Shawan Lake and Port Renfrew, was discovered by a prospector who is now dead. He described it as having carved steps and other signs of occupancy.

Don Abbott, assistant anthropologist of the provincial museum, will accompany the group as an observer.

Start Made On City Vote Preparations

City council today was expected to appoint city clerk Frank Hunter as its returning officer to start municipal rolling towards the annual civic election next month.

Nominations for four vacancies on council and two on the Greater Victoria School Board will be accepted until Dec. 1.

Polling, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., will be held Dec. 8 in the Victoria Ballroom, northwest corner of Government and Cormorant, for the third consecutive year.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Fortune, Miramichi, Cowichan, James Bay return 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Assiniboine, Fraser, Skeena return Dec. 2.

Antigonish, Beacon Hill return Nov. 22.

Delivery Man Hurt By Thug Loses $110

Robbers who faked a delivery order for Chinese food attacked 24-year-old driver Ning Mar, 1032 Mason, robbed him of $110 and put him in hospital with head cuts late Wednesday.

First described as "fair" at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ning was released later.

Police said his firm, Ming's Kitchen, received a telephone order for $4.70 worth of food to be delivered to 657 Superior, where the deliveryman arrived shortly before 10.

He told police he left his truck at the curb on Superior and began walking toward the address when two figures accosted him from the shadows of a large hedge.

He was hit several times with a sharp instrument and bled considerably as he staggered and crawled toward Douglas and the Thunderbird Motel, where he was spotted by motel operator Peter Hartnell, who called police.

ILLUSION GOES

Most people who go for the deal soon find out that it isn't as good as it sounded when the clever, well-trained salesman (or woman) got their signature on the dotted line. Many of them have complained vociferously and turned their machines back in, refusing to make further payments.

THE FAST PITCH

And it was then that what is known in the direct-selling game as "the switch" took place.

Contract Sales of Milk With Machines Protested

By GORDON BELL, Times Business Editor

How is this for a real bargain for families struggling with the high cost of living?

For no more than you are now paying each month for milk you can have a plentiful supply of "extra-wholesome and delicious" milk. At the end of two years you will also own a fine blending and mixing machine with nine attachments to do everything from grinding meat to mixing bread dough, which if sold in a retail store would cost $239.50.

Sounds pretty good.

Scores of Victoria families have thought so, along with thousands of families all across the country who have been approached by salesmen of a firm which has headquarters in Toronto.

THE HARD FACTS

But what are the facts on this bargain?

People who sign up contract to pay a total of $403.10 over a 24-month period. This is what they get:

1. A mixing-blending machine which has been shown in a court case in eastern Canada to be worth about $40 at the wholesale level and which Victoria appliance dealers estimate to be worth between $100 and $125 retail.

2. A two-year supply of powdered milk delivered at a price of approximately 31 cents a pound, or almost exactly the same price for which it can be bought at any grocery store in the city.

In other words, $403.10 buys products which can be bought right in Victoria through any reputable dealer for a little over $200.

Up to this point the entire emphasis was on milk and even after the salesman arrived he was still talking about milk for the astonishingly low price of $4.75 for a month's supply for the entire family.

But when it came right down to demonstrating the product the salesman had to go out to his car for the "special" machine which was necessary to convert the powder into a "nourishing, healthful" beverage.

THE FAST PITCH

And it was then that what is known in the direct-selling game as "the switch" took place.

Local dairies and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce have received complaints from well over 100 dissatisfied customers. It is easy to figure that there are hundreds more people who either have not caught on to the inflated prices they are paying for the deal—or who are ashamed to admit they paid their deposit and signed contracts without looking more closely at what they were getting for their money.

LET'S HAD ENOUGH

Mr. Vesey is sending his machine back to the company's Vancouver headquarters and says he will not make any more payments on his contract.

One point that bothered Mr. Vesey more than losing his deposit was that he had supplied the salesman with a list of 10 friends and acquaintances who would be good prospects.

He arranged for the salesman to call when a reporter from The Times was present and demanded the list be returned.

600 TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE SOON TO HANDLE CHRISTMAS MAIL

Temporary jobs for more than 600 persons will be available soon in Greater Victoria when the Post Office department gets its Christmas season mail load.

Postmaster R. F. Reid said today no final decision has been made on exact number needed, or whether to hire men or women.

A report from Vancouver says the Post Office there will not hire men. Inside sorters will go out on the delivery squads while women will be hired to take over sorting.

Mr. Reid said: "That is a policy we have followed for years."

However, he added, the unemployment level, with a large number of men out of work, "is a factor we can't overlook."

An official of the National Employment Service said 600 persons got Christmas post office jobs last year.

"We would appear to have sufficient people interested already to adequately meet requirements this year," he said.

From now on the emphasis was not on milk but on the machine which the salesman demonstrated for an hour—making milk shakes, pureeing fruit and vegetables, blending, whipping and grinding.

When the salesman told them that they could have the whole thing—machine, nine attachments and a two-year milk supply—for just what it was costing them now for milk alone, they were eager to hand over the $25 deposit and sign two "binding" contracts. One contract was for the milk at $4.75 a month for two years; the other for the machine at $11.25 a month for 23 months.

Total bill including deposit, provincial sales tax of $12.10 and carrying charges of $39 came to $403.10.

THE SLOW CURVE

"We're conducting a milk consumption survey in this area and we would like to know if you have any children and how many quarts of milk you use a day."

"You use two quarts a day, you say. That means you are spending about 50-cents a day on milk or about $16 a month. We have a plan by which you can drastically reduce your milk bill and still have all the benefits of this most wholesome and necessary food. There is a representative in your neighborhood now and we would like to have this plan explained to you without obligation."

Up to this point the entire emphasis was on milk and even after the salesman arrived he was still talking about milk for the astonishingly low price of $4.75 for a month's supply for the entire family.

But when it came right down to demonstrating the product the salesman had to go out to his car for the "special" machine which was necessary to convert the powder into a "nourishing, healthful" beverage.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Mother's Scottish Recipe
Used by This Businessman
By PENNY SAVER

One enterprising young Vancouver man knows a good thing when he sees it! Starting last month, he's building up an excellent business out of an old Scottish recipe for almond icing, brought out to this country by his mother many years ago. If you're planning to use almond icing on your Christmas cakes you can't do better than use some of this product that's now available in Victoria.

No substitutes are used in this delectable 'marzipan'—as they call it in Europe—just sugar, ground almonds and purest oil of almonds. Packages containing 14 ounces sell at 69 cents while others containing eight ounces are priced at 39 cents.

Marzipan candies are easily made with this almond icing. Here are a few suggestions. Take some pitted dates, fill with marzipan and roll in icing sugar. They're delicious!

Try breaking off small pieces, flattening them and placing either a cherry, almond or walnut in the centre. Roll each into a ball and you'll have candies that will highlight any party. Another idea is to roll marzipan into little round balls, place a toothpick in each and dip in a chocolate icing or sauce. Rolled quickly in finely shredded coconut and you have candies that friends would love to receive as a timely Christmas gift.

Any time you're beginning to feel that there's no excitement left in daily living take a peek at some of the items to be found on shelves of food stores. Believe me, you're bound to change your mind! Just imagine eating chocolate-covered ants for the very first time! These sell at 99 cents for two ounces and are just one of the amazing items to be found.

For other adventures, there are roasted caterpillars that sell at 33 cents for 1½ ounces, and if you've never savored quail eggs, these are available at 29 cents for a tin containing about 1½ ounces. All come from far-off Japan.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped today, give her a ring at EV 2-3131.

THE BETTER HALF

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

New Interests Can Lift You
Out of Rut of Daily Routine

New interests can revitalize everyday living and lift it out of the rut of daily routine. The repercussions in personality and outlook and health are sometimes almost unbelievable.

Today leathercraft is becoming more and more popular. Authorities on modern leisure programs say that it is now one of the four most popular crafts.

We too often think of crafts programs as being enjoyed only by younger people. Actually, almost half of the leathercraft enthusiasts are more than 38 years old. Women seem to enjoy this art about as much as men do. Fifty-seven per cent of the leathercrafters are men and 43 per cent are women.

This is a practical and inexpensive hobby. A beginner's kit is inexpensive and simple instructions come with the kit. Also this craft requires no workbench or chemicals or high heat equipment as do some of the crafts. You can work right in your living room and easily pick up and put away all necessary articles in just a few minutes.

Many middle-aged and older people are surprised to find that they have unutilized artistic ability. The opportunity to express this in creative activity is rejuvenating. It satisfies a natural urge to create lovely things with our hands. Rings Exchanged in Wedding
Held in St. Aidan's Church

In a double-ring ceremony in St. Aidan's United Church last Saturday Miss Margaret Cora Ball and David Jackson exchanged marriage vows. Rev. A. I. Avery officiated. The church was decorated with standard baskets of white flowers. Giant chrysanthemums with satin streamers marked guest pews. Miss M. Vaughn was organist and Mrs. M. Sturgeon sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Ball, 3646 Iona Drive, and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wilcott, 1244 Palmer Road.

Fair-haired bride entered the church on arm of her father. She wore a full-length gown in white nylon net over taffeta with basque bodice and bolero jacket featuring lily point sleeves and tiny collar. A finger-tip veil of silk illusion was held with a dainty Juliet cap of net and lace that sparkled with sequins and seed pearls. Only jewelry was culture pearl earrings, gift of groom. A cascade bouquet of red roses and feathered white chrysanthemums completed the bridal ensemble.

Maid of honor, Miss Diane Ball, and bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Sibson, were identically attired in gowns of turquoise and yellow nylon over taffeta. They carried mauve and bronze chrysanthemums. Arthur Phillips was groomsmen and Jeffrey Phillips and Brian Sedgeman acted as ushers.

Villa Marina was scene of a reception where tables were covered with lace tablecloths and decorated with fall flowers. Head table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Murray Turner toasted the bride.

Here from Vancouver for the wedding were Mr. Hugh Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. D. McCallum, Mrs. R. Doull and Robert and Mr. and Mrs. R. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. Poirier came from Nanaimo. For a honeymoon trip to California, Mrs. Jackson

DEAR ABBY

You're on the Right Track, Honey!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school. I don't have the kind of parents you can talk to so I started confiding in a man teacher. He said he would rather I talked to the woman counselor, but I was afraid I couldn't trust her. I guess I made a pest of myself because he had my classes changed around so I wouldn't have study hall during his off period. I got mad and told my girl friend things about this man that were not true. She promised not to tell, but word got back to my mother and she went to see the principal. The teacher wanted to talk to my parents, but they wouldn't see him, so I just had to say everything I said was true. He got fired and all he did was listen to my troubles. He moved out of town. What should I do? I feel just terrible.—GUILTY GIRL

DEAR GUILTY: Go to the principal and tell him the truth. Then ask for the teacher's address and write your apology to him. And vow never to bear false witness again. You are capable of being a good person. Your troubled conscience shows it.

DEAR ABBY: If a woman proposes to a man, does she have to buy her own engagement ring?—JUST ASKING.

DEAR JUST: Only if the man doesn't offer to buy her one.

DEAR ABBY: My son-in-law is the biggest disappointment in the world. My daughter has been married to him less than a year and when he comes in the house she is lucky if he says hello to her.

He just grunts and drops his big carcass in the easy chair and in two minutes he drives you out of the room with his snoring. No one dares to say anything to her about him because she sticks up for him. ("He's tired, Mom.")

Don't you think that this big slob should be told off? Or should we just let our daughter get as rude and boorish as he is?—MOTHER-IN-LAW.

DEAR MOTHER: The "slob" is your daughter's hero and unless his behavior is a problem to her, don't stir up anything.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE SWEETHEART OF SIGMUND FREUD" AT THE DOCTOR'S HOSPITAL: Take care of your id, Kid.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers all letters.

Bigger Tourist Budget Sought

Auto Courts and Resorts Association of B.C. will ask the provincial government to grant the recreation department an operating budget equal to one per cent of the total tourist dollars spent in B.C.

In passing this resolution at its annual convention in the Empress Hotel Wednesday, the association said the department can neither function properly nor promote the tourist industry on its existing budget.

The association said the suggested budget equals that spent by private firms in maintaining and promoting business.

FAVOR MICA DAM

Passed was a resolution which condemned the project on the grounds that it would be an unnecessary destruction of natural resources, a destruction of fish-spawning areas for years to come and detrimental to the development of the tourist industry along the Arrow Lakes.

Delegates agreed that the High Arrow Dam would be a waste of investment funds and urged instead that immediate starts be made on the Mica

General support was given by delegates to a recent resolution passed at the recent convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities concerning taxation of trailer homes.

Jaycee Chief To Take Gift For Israelis

Alan Wilson, president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, leaves today to attend the Jaycees International Convention in Paris and will take with him a ceremonial Indian mask as a gift to the Israeli Jaycees.

Israeli Jaycees are building up a museum at Nathanya and have asked clubs all over the world to provide representative works of art.

A wood carving by Henry Hunter, who works at Thunderbird Park, the mask is called "Man of the Sea."

Jaycee meeting Wednesday night was "invaded" by a party from the Duncan Club. Purpose of their visit was to hand over to the Victoria Junior Chamber a travelling gavel.

The gavel is moving from club to club right through the country.

Other visitors included Jim Kennedy, district president of the lower mainland, and Frank Ney, of Nanaimo, district president of Vancouver Island.

It was suggested that since some B.C. municipalities have instituted inequitable licensing of mobile homes the provincial government should step in and set up legislation to regulate all trailer homes in the province. The association would have all mobile homes taxed for municipal services on a provincial basis with taxes collected distributed equitably to the municipalities. Provision should be made in the legislation, it was stated, to avoid double taxation and to exempt bona fide tourists.

The association also will ask the provincial government for a clearer definition of the term "tourist accommodation" as used in the Tourist Accommodation Act. It was not clear, it was felt, as to whether or not the act included trailer and mobile home accommodation provided by an increasing number of court and resort operators.

Ed. J. Bodnarchuk of Vancouver was re-elected president of the association, and other officers elected were: J. J. Di-Marzio of Hope, vice president, auto courts section; Edward Lowe of Pender Harbor, vice president, resorts section; and Jack Steglish, vice president, trailer courts section.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Colwood RCMP court Wednesday:

Leonard Christopher Weyler, 1161-Bewdley, and James Carstairs, 2772 Virago, $35 and $3 costs each for careless driving.

Leo Toutant, 688 Rockingham, $15 and $3 costs for operating a trailer without safety chain.

John Charles O'Connor, 2814 Leigh, $20 and $3 costs for speeding over 30.

Bernard Wheeler Lennox, 3351 Rocky Point, $10 and $3 costs for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Terrence Alfred Hockley, HMCS Naden, $25 and $3 costs for violation of driver's licence restriction.

Alfred John Ferguson Roberts, 1576 Hampshire, $10 and $3 costs for obstructing traffic by improper parking.

DONALD GORDON... status in doubt

IN OR OUT?

Ottawa Wavers On Gordon

By TOM GOULD
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The federal government appears to be wavering on the reappointment of CNR president Donald Gordon, whose term expired Oct. 1.

Some government informants said the reappointment has merely been held up because the cabinet, meeting night and day, weekdays and weekends in an effort to put together a legislative program for the coming session, hasn't had time to consider CNR appointments.

Others said the government isn't convinced it should reappoint Mr. Gordon, whose blunt and outspoken views have frequently aroused the ire of Tory backbenchers and cabinet ministers.

If only Mr. Gordon was involved, the government's delay could be considered an out-and-out expression of non-confidence.

THREE OUT

But the situation is somewhat confused by the fact that the terms of office of three other board members also ran out on Oct. 1. They are: Edward Bickle, Toronto stockbroker; J. A. Northey, a Toronto industrialist, and Wilfred Gagnon, a Montreal businessman.

A government informant said the three directors will be replaced. But there is nothing definite on the fate of Mr. Gordon, Transport Minister Balcer, in reply to queries, said only that an announcement would be made "in due course". In the interim, Mr. Gordon and the directors are staying on the job.

Mr. Gordon has no intention of resigning, according to one informant, and the impression here is that he is "afflicted by the indecision as anyone else."

Mr. Gordon is president and chairman of the board of the federally-owned CNR. Board members are appointed for three-year terms, and, in the past, reappointments or new appointments were made before the expiry date.

Second Youth Pleads Guilty In Pistol Case

The second of two youths charged Tuesday with possession of stolen property pleaded guilty when they reappeared Wednesday in city police court.

Brian John Connerly and Terrence Brian Stokes, both 19, of Duncan, were remanded to Nov. 15 for probation report and sentence on a charge of being in possession of a 110-year-old antique derringer pistol stolen in a Mill Bay burglary Sept. 15.

Connerly pleaded guilty at the first appearance but Stokes was given time to consider his plea when he seemed uncertain.

UNDER DASH

A Det. Walter Calwell said Stokes and Connerly were checked in a car belonging to Connerly and his brother. It was searched and a four-barrel Sharp's derringer was found underneath the dashboard.

He said both youths knew it was there.

Magistrate William Ostler noted there was no evidence against Stokes.

"He pleaded guilty to the charge, Your Honor," prosecutor T. P. O'Grady remarked.

"Yes, but only after a great deal of difficulty in getting a plea out of him."

UNDERSTANDS

He asked the accused Stokes again if he understood the charge and Stokes said he did.

Mr. O'Grady pointed out the fact that the burglary was recent, an important part of the Criminal Code charge relating to possession of stolen property.

Thieves took $762 in cash and about $236 worth of goods including the derringer of $35 value, and two Colt derringers with gold-mounted breeches valued at $60, from the home of David Bruce Kier.

B.C.-Ottawa Planning Columbia Progress Talk

"B.C. and Ottawa policy teams will meet later this month to discuss progress on the international development of the Columbia River."

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston and Attorney-General Robert Bonner will go to Ottawa with B.C.'s policy liaison team. The meeting is planned about Nov. 16.

The talks will be about progress in completing a draft treaty between the U.S. and Canada, Mr. Williston said today. "We will discuss where we go from here," he said.

minister Donald Fleming asking for an offer, but has not so far announced a reply.

Mr. Williston said the change in U.S. administration after the presidential election probably won't affect the draft treaty, which should be completed before the end of this year.

The treaty will have to be approved by Congress, however, before work can go ahead.

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, B.C. Hydro chairman, said a consulting engineer for the project will be chosen in two weeks to a month.

Every major engineering company in Canada is bidding on the project, he said.

"We can't be certain when construction will start, but with normal or reasonably good luck we should be able to start on some of the construction work in 1961."

NEW MELCHERS APPOINTMENTS

INDUSTRY-WIDE DRIVE

Job Safety Major Concern

Accident prevention was a major topic Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C. in the Empress Hotel.

Representatives of 35 member firms and 10 associate members registered for the one-day meeting.

The association was host to four members of the cabinet at a banquet in the evening.

On the guest list were Highway Minister P. A. Gagliardi, Attorney-General Robert Bonner, Works Minister W. N. Chant and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks.

MAJOR CONCERN

Association president J. C. Boyd of Vancouver said that safety on the jobs is one of the major concerns of the construction industry.

Mr. Boyd said he hopes the association can spearhead an industry-wide drive to cut down accidents.

He said at least $1,000,000 could be saved each year of the $3,000,000 assessment to the Workmen's Compensation Board if a special experience-rating assessment formula were introduced.

Mr. Boyd said the entire construction industry will be polled on the idea next spring.

Burglar Tools Pair Remanded For Sentence

Two Vancouver men found guilty in Colwood RCMP court Tuesday of having burglar tools in their possession were remanded to Nov. 16 for probation report and sentence.

Joseph Raymond Palmer, 24, and George William Turner, 20, were stopped by a curious policeman who noticed their car near a Colwood shopping centre early one morning.

When he asked them to step from the car he noticed one slip a loaded revolver between the seats.

A search of the car and the accused turned up two crowbars, two large screwdrivers, brace and bit, leather gloves, pipe wrench, pliers and two pairs of dark glasses.

B.C. Farmers Meet Here

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes will open the 27th annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture at the Empress Hotel Nov. 22.

Farmers from 83 B.C. organizations will attend the convention, armed with a portfolio of 50 resolutions.

Main speaker of the first day's business will be Dr. H. Hannam, of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

MP TO SPEAK

On Nov. 23, guest speaker of the day will be Warner Jorgenson MP for Morris, Man., recently appointed parliamentary secretary to Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton.

Resolutions to be presented by agricultural groups across B.C. include a number of requests to the B.C. government recently made to Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy by the advisory board of the farmers' institutes of B.C.

LOAN PROGRAM

Foremost among these is a request to be allowed to appear before the B.C. legislature's agriculture committee at the next session starting in January.

Other resolutions to come up at the convention ask for a loan program for farmers, tax concessions for farmers and a royal commission to review the entire taxation structure of the province.

ADDED TO ART COLLECTION of B.C. Maritime Museum, Signal Hill, this week was 1809 steel engraving of Admiral Lord Nelson, presented by Major George Sisman, 1626 Wilmut Place. Portrait was accepted on behalf of museum by Rear-Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes (right), Flag Officer, Pacific Coast. It is third picture presented by Major Sisman.

HUNGER 'THE REMEDY FOR 'FAT, SLOPPY'

TORONTO (CP)—Hunger is the only remedy for unemployed specialists who will not adapt themselves to various types of work, Reeve Norman Goodhead of suburban North York said Tuesday night.

He told a panel discussion on employment, organized by the township community council, that everybody wants to be a specialist and nobody wants to use a pick and shovel.

"Too many people are getting fat and sloppy. It's time they got lean and hungry."

THE BIG DAY IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER!

HAPPIER WITH A NEW APPLIANCE

Monday, November 14th, is the starting date of the gigantic event called "Make Your Home Happier With a New Appliance."

For two weeks, starting Monday, Victoria appliance dealers and distributors are going all out to let you know what a wealth of wonderful new appliances they have in store for you. Watch their newspaper advertisements during the next two weeks when they'll be telling you all about the great special values arranged for this pre-Christmas shopping event.

The sign of the smiling house shown above will be displayed in messages from appliance dealers, manufacturers, utilities and others who believe you can "Make Your Home Happier With a New Appliance."

Just keep your eyes focused on the newspaper pages for this sign of special value—value that is built into every one of today's money-saving, labor-saving appliances.

Check the advertisements and read the editorial features . . . designed to tell the public how modern appliances contribute to a happier, more leisurely life.

SPEEDING IN HARBOR COSTS FISHERMEN $30

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two seine boat operators were fined $30 each here Wednesday for exceeding the five-knot speed limit in Coal Harbor. Court was told the wash from the boats caused a police boat to ram into another craft, causing $50 damage. John Gwozd and Leroy Kullman admitted going over the limit.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Body of Pilot Found in Wreck

(Compiled From CP)

VANCOUVER—Richard Schreiber, 30, of Stewart, B.C., was found dead Wednesday in the wreckage of a plane which was found Tuesday after being missing a week in northwestern B.C.

The discovery was made by a helicopter crew which landed at the scene as a search was pressed for a second plane missing in the same mountainous country north of Stewart.

But the search was called off Wednesday night when Perry Linton, of Hays River, N.W.T., operator of Linton Construction Company, was reported safe.

Linton landed at a small airfield south of Stewart and did not immediately report. Earlier another search plane reported as missing also turned up safely.

FLUORIDE VOTE

TRAIL — The council will place a referendum on fluoridation of the city water supply before voters at the municipal election next month. The move groups.

AGREEMENT VOID

VANCOUVER — A British Columbia Supreme Court justice ruled Wednesday the city of New Westminster is not bound to honor an agreement with Rayonier (B.C.) Limited, because the council had no right to make an agreement with the company 21 years ago.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson ruled against Rayonier in its suit to compel the city to renew tax-exemption leases in 1939.

Crown Sets Shumatcher Case Appeal

REGINA (CP)—The court of appeal Monday will hear a Crown appeal against a judgment quashing a second set of search warrants for the law offices and residence of lawyer Dr. M. C. Schumatcher.

The warrants, authorizing RCMP securities investigators to seize documents in connection with criminal charges facing Dr. Schumatcher, were declared invalid by Chief Justice Emmett Hall.

Dr. Schumatcher is charged in connection with statements given by witnesses to a Saskatchewan securities commission hearing.

Recently Retired Prairie Man Dies At Brother's Home

Norman Reid Ableson, who recently moved Victoria on his retirement, died Monday. He was 73.

Mr. Ableson, an electrician who lived in Winnipeg for the past 57 years, was a frequent summer visitor to Victoria until he took up residence with a brother at 3150 Somerset Street.

He is survived by two brothers, Harold of Victoria and Howard of Winnipeg, and one sister, Mrs. Edna Irvine, of Nelson.

the lease and agreed to the tax exemption.

Then the question of whether the council had the right to renew arose and after a delay the firm brought court action against New Westminster.

The justice held that the city council—not the city—agreed to renew the tax-exempt waterfront lease. But he also held that the agreement was not effective because the council did not put it to a vote by ratepayers, as required in the 1936 Municipal Act—in force when the original leases were granted.

DIES OF STARVATION

VANCOUVER—Fred Magee, 84, of Squamish, who lay without food for five days in his nearby Bowen Island cabin, has died in hospital. Magee was found by a neighbor. He was suffering from influenza and had no food.

ASSAULTED

NEW WESTMINSTER—A 64-year-old resident of nearby Coquitlam was brutally assaulted in his own home Tuesday night by two masked armed men.

The men, wearing paper bags over their heads, burst into John Yovanovich's home and spent 30 minutes searching the house for money.

The thugs threatened their victim with a pistol and punched and kicked him. The men bound and gagged Mr. Yovanovich before escaping in the latter's car.

It took Mr. Yovanovich half an hour to free himself. Police could find no trace of the men who fled with only $5.

INJURIES FATAL

HOPE (CP)—Ronald Douglas Stoutenburg, 25, of Hope, died in hospital early Wednesday of injuries suffered nine hours earlier in a traffic accident. RCMP said Stoutenburg was driving a borrowed car which struck a power pole in Hope.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE

VANCOUVER—A mother told police court Wednesday she kept her children away from school because officials there "do not understand my stand with the Almighty."

Mrs. Mae Prest was charged under the Public Schools Act with keeping her children, Randy, 12, and Clare Louise, 15, away from school for all but six and seven days respectively of this school term—now 46 days old.

Magistrate Les Bewley found the woman guilty, but suspended sentence. He warned that if the children were kept away in the future she could be fined up to $10 daily.

"Your religious liberties are safeguarded by man-made laws, the magistrate said. "You are not being fair to your children by forcing them to adopt your ideas."

Mrs. Prest did not specify her beliefs.

Paper-Thin Kennedy Victory Could Slow Reform Programs

36 Victoria Daily Times THURS., NOV. 10, 1960

ADLAI STEVENSON

Result Sweet To Me

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, issued this statement Wednesday on the Kennedy-Johnson election victory: "After two defeats and campaigning for two months from coast-to-coast, the victory of John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson and the Democratic party is very sweet to me. "The result is a tribute to Senator Kennedy's tireless campaign. He drew the issues sharply between those who say everything is okay and those who say they are not, and that there is lots more to do..."

NEW MEXICO RIGHT AGAIN

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—New Mexico gave its four electoral votes to John F. Kennedy Wednesday and thus preserved a 48-year record of picking the presidential winners in every election since statehood.

Popular-Vote Margin Slimmest In 76 Years

By HAROLD MORRISON Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—John Kennedy's final triumph over Richard Nixon has turned into a hair-line victory. It seems much less than an enthusiastic endorsement of his urgent plea to "get the country moving again."

While the 43-year-old Boston Democrat scored decisively in the electoral vote, the national popularity count indicated the American electorate had difficulty deciding whether it wanted the Massachusetts millionaire or 47-year-old Republican Nixon, son of a California grocer.

Kennedy's margin of victory in the popularity count is the slimmest in some 76 years, just a fraction of one per cent of a record vote.

With more than 66,000,000 ballots counted, Kennedy had a lead at one time of just 300,000, compared with one of 1,800,000 soon after the polls closed in the eastern part of the United States Tuesday night.

Cabinet Appointments In 2 Weeks?

Kennedy will take a brief holiday with his wife who is expecting a child in three weeks.

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 253-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

As the votes poured in, Nixon was heartened in his hour of defeat by the fact that he piled up a big popular vote.

With his impressive showing, it seems unlikely the party would seek to ditch him quickly, though there were rumblings of a split along conservative-liberal lines, with New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller on one side and arch-conservative Barry Goldwater, Arizona senator, on the other. Goldwater contended Nixon lost because he expressed a "me too" tendency in debating with Kennedy.

Robert Kennedy, the president-elect's brother and campaign manager, said the four television debates gave Kennedy a big boost and Nixon made the wrong move in accepting the debate challenge. Robert added he wouldn't allow his brother to meet a challenger in this way if John decides to seek a second term in 1964.

Senator Thurston Morton, Republican national chairman, agreed the television debates may have played a part but argued the Negro vote was Kennedy's main reason for victory. He contended Kennedy drew a bigger Negro vote than the Republicans had anticipated.

Democrats agreed that Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's vice-presidential mate, was the big powerhouse in the south, increasing his stature in Democratic leadership.

Rockefeller Looms As GOP Bearer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Governor Nelson Rockefeller, who failed to carry his home state for the Republican standard-bearer in Tuesday's election, to emerge as a contender for nevertheless appears certain the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

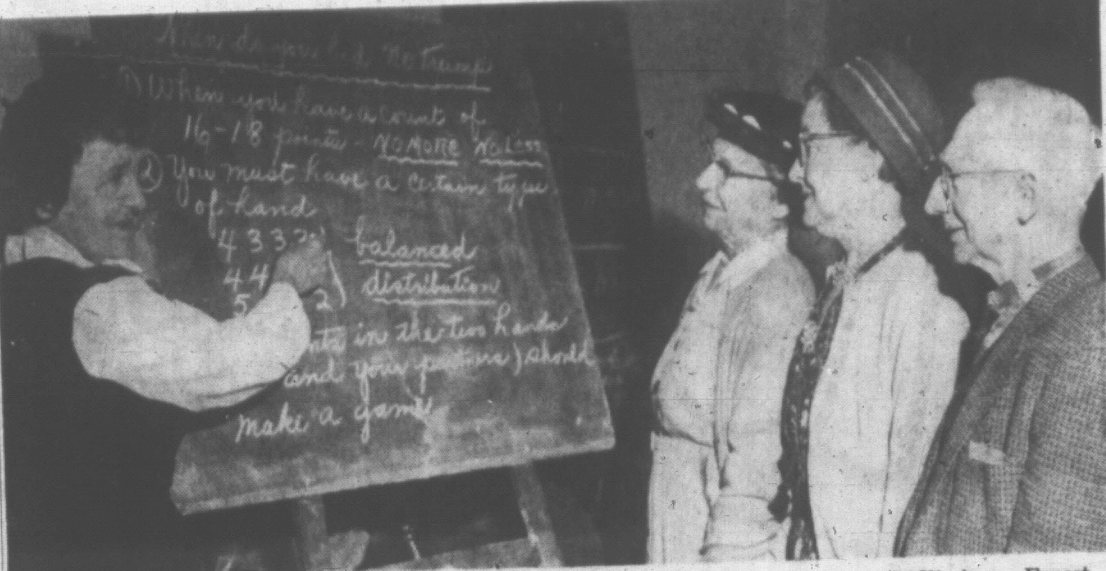

Vice-President Richard Nixon lost New York by 400,000 votes, although President Eisenhower carried it by 1,500,000 in 1956.

Rockefeller was elected governor by more than 500,000 votes two years ago.

Despite this setback, Rockefeller's name is certain to loom large when the Republican party starts seeking a national leader to restore it to the victory trails.

But Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, a leader of the party's conservative element, told a reporter at Phoenix, Wednesday night: "If Mr. Rockefeller can't carry New York, he can't be reckoned a figure to be contended with in the Republican party."

Goldwater suggested that the Republican party lost the presidential race because it had a "me-too" candidate.

CROOK RIGHT SINCE 1882

PRINEVILLE, Ore. (CP)—Crook County voted for the winner—President-elect John F. Kennedy—just as it has in every U.S. presidential election since it was formed in 1882.

Crook, one of eight counties in the U.S. always with the winner, gave Kennedy 2,008 votes to 1,603 for Vice-President Nixon.

And as in many past elections, Crook went the opposite way Oregon went. Oregon gave its six electoral votes to Nixon, the loser.

Nixon Good Loser In First Setback

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard Nixon tasted political defeat for the first time Wednesday—and took it in the tradition of good losers.

The Republican vice-president was turned back in his long, arduous quest of the presidency by decisive electoral vote margin for Democrat John Kennedy.

He sent the winner a congratulatory telegram Wednesday morning, then flew with his family to Washington—a day earlier than planned. An aide said they wanted to keep their children out of school no longer than necessary.

The 47-year-old Nixon—a Congressman at 33, Senator at 37, vice-president at 39—had never lost at the polls until student.

returns sent him tumbling in his try for the top U.S. job. The vice-president's face was grey with fatigue as he left the hotel Wednesday but he smiled and shook hands along the way. His wife, her lips compressed, walked a few feet behind.

The future? Herbert Klein, the press secretary, said he didn't know. Klein added that Nixon before leaving Los Angeles had received a sheaf of telegrams offering him positions at various universities, in law firms, in business corporations.

Anton Chekhov, the Russian author and playwright who died in 1904, started writing short stories as a university student.

ONLY ONE IN CANADA

Silver Threads Centre Cure for Loneliness

The cure for loneliness is to be found at Victoria's Silver Threads Centre—the only one of its kind in Canada.

This Red Feather agency, at 643 Broughton, entirely supported by the Community Chest, caters to tastes and people over 65.

There is something for everybody. Old-time dancing and a concert every Wednesday. Films and slides on Tuesdays. Sewing and knitting on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. A drama group on Thursdays. A bridge and card-playing group on Fridays.

Many Services

There is even a letter-writing service. Old-timers who find it hard to keep up their correspondence with friends can have it done for them.

There is a counselling service provided by full-time workers who find homes, apartments and rest homes for elderly persons. A volunteer corps makes regular calls on shut-ins and members who find it difficult to visit the centre.

One of the latest enterprises is a nature study class organized by naturalist Freeman King under the sponsorship of Victoria Natural History Society.

Mrs. Gladys Soulsby and Miss Irene Latimer conducted explorations of native flora in Beacon Hill Park, supervised by Mr. King. There is a fast-growing enthusiasm for these outings.

New Interests

Silver Threads services are energized by executive director Glen Hamilton and a loyal band of workers who put service before self.

"Many veterans are suffering from loneliness," says Mr. Hamilton. "Their children may have married and gone away to other places. Or they may have no children. Unless they have work to do, the loneliness becomes oppressive. They may develop melancholia."

"We have many veterans who have gained a new interest in life through the activities we offer."

The Silver Threads Old-Time Orchestra is a notable example. Its enthusiastic members thoroughly enjoy playing for dancing—notably 82-year-old W. H. Whiting who performs on the accordion and Sam Cave, 73, who batters the drums.

Learn Card Games

Mrs. Evelyn Lamont conducts a course of instruction into the mysteries of bridge every Friday afternoon, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Hicks.

For those who do not care for bridge there are separate groups playing cribbage and "five hundred". Between 50 and 60 attend the Friday card sessions.

Another new endeavor is a concert party organized by veteran entertainer Frank Anderson. The response indicates there is plenty of talent in the 65-and-over age group.

Pensioners with a talent for handicrafts are proving their skill at making toys for Christmas. There will be a sale of their wares at Kirk Hall, 680 Courtney Street on Nov. 16.

Membership in Silver Threads has grown to more than 700—and it is still growing.

U.K. Steel Output Hits Record Figure

LONDON (Reuters)—British steel production in October reached a record level of 497,000 tons a week, the Iron and Steel Board has announced. This compared with the previous record monthly figure of 485,100 tons a week last March.

Pig iron production in October also set a record of 313,900 tons a week, the board added.

China Sounds Sour Note As Most of World Cheers

LONDON (Reuters)—Communist China showed a marked lack of enthusiasm today for the victory of John F. Kennedy.

Peking radio complained that in his election eve broadcast, Kennedy, as well as Vice-President Richard Nixon, "stepped up talk about arms expansion and war preparations."

The Peking People's Daily today announced the results of the election under the headline: "Monopoly groups change their tool."

On the inside pages—usually reserved for foreign news—all Communist Chinese newspapers published an undated New China News Agency dispatch that said President-elect John Kennedy was no different from defeated Richard Nixon "in pursuing the aims of the aggressive and reactionary policies of the U.S. ruling circles."

In Prague, the official Czech news agency said Kennedy's victory showed "a desire to abandon the Republican policy of aggravating international tension."

The Western world welcomed the Democratic party victory. There was a general feeling in London that a younger American president would supply more vigorous leadership to the West.

A typical reaction is that of the right-wing Daily Mail, which says Kennedy "should blow like a fresh wind through Washington" and quickly make his presence felt in the world.

The Daily Telegraph, soberly conservative, says: "In a world at once terrifying and drab, the combination of Senator Kennedy's burning confidence, in his country's mission and his almost Rooseveltian panache and glamour introduces a fresh and wonderfully welcome note that is both realistic and romantic."

The Guardian of Manchester mentions the problem of Communist China and says Kennedy is the only man in the U.S. who can safely run the risks entailed in a more liberal policy toward that country.

The right-wing Daily Express hails Kennedy's victory as a demonstration that "personal counts, and that the old, daring, thrusting American spirit is still ready to respond to a vigorous faith in the future."

FRINDLY TO INDIA Dispatches from New Delhi said Indian Prime Minister Nehru accepted Kennedy as a good friend of India. Nehru expressed the hope a more liberal American policy toward Asia would emerge from the Democratic victory.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who, like Kennedy, is a Catholic, said in a statement: "The personality and political principles of the newly-elected president are a guarantee that he will uphold the cause of peace in freedom with firmness and wisdom."

Another American ally—nationalist China—was less enthusiastic about the president-elect, who had expressed doubts about defending Quemoy and Matsu.

A nationalist spokesman said the Chinese people "watched with considerable interest the presidential election campaign which demonstrated once again how American democracy works."

In Geneva, hope was expressed that Kennedy's election would herald a less rigid line in three-power negotiations for a nuclear test ban. The two-year-old talks now are in a virtual deadlock.

NIXON WINS IN HAWAII—WE THINK

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's election officials, for the second time, said Wednesday night that Vice-President Richard Nixon had carried the 50th state—but warned they still couldn't be sure.

Only Wednesday morning they said Senator John F. Kennedy was ahead.

Wednesday night they had Nixon ahead by only 117 votes—the still unofficial count showed 92,268 for him with 92,151 for Kennedy.

These returns are for all 240 of the state's precincts. "We may not know officially who won until next week," said William Kalua, administrative assistant to Lieutenant-Governor James Kealoha.

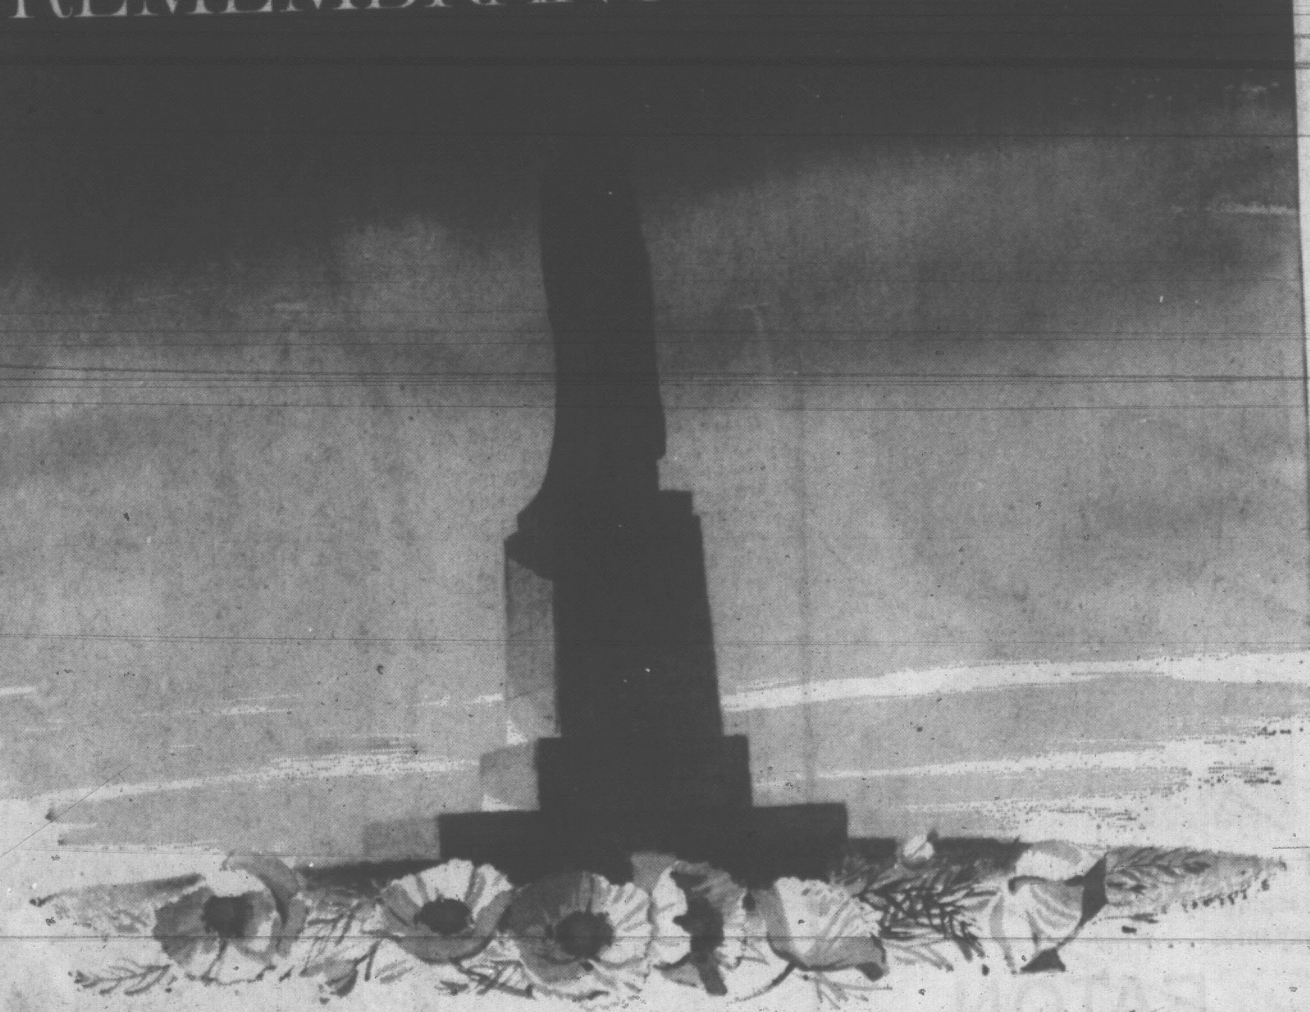

Voters Rebuff Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—James Hoffa, the Teamsters Union chief, scored a spectacular flop in trying to purge from Congress a group of members of the House of Representatives who ran counter to the wishes of 1959 labor legislation.

Out of 40 such House members actively opposed by the leadership of the vast teamsters organization only one was defeated.

Hoffa had stated over and over during the campaign that John F. Kennedy and his brother Robert, former chief counsel of the Senate labor racketeers committee, were bent on destroying both Hoffa and the Teamsters Union.

REMEMBRANCE DAY...1960

Now tend their memory well
For, with the deepening dusk,
As in the morning's silent hour,
Bright honour sets each name
Beyond the stars eternal.

EATON'S OF CANADA

Guessing Game Begins

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chester Bowles and Sen. William Fulbright were mentioned yesterday as two leading candidates for secretary of state in the Kennedy administration.

Guessing shapes up this way: Secretary of state—Bowles, who was one of Kennedy's main foreign policy advisers in the campaign. Others prominently mentioned are Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, and David Bruce, former ambassador to Germany. Kennedy made some highly complimentary campaign references to Bruce as a career ambassador.

Adlai Stevenson had long been mentioned as a possible secretary of state. He might have gotten the job too if he had thrown support to Kennedy before the Democratic convention. But he didn't. Now he is being mentioned as a possible U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. Defence—Speculation centres around Thomas Finletter, former air force secretary in the Truman administration.

Treasury—Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the Bank of America in San Francisco; Republican Douglas Dillon, the present undersecretary of state. Kennedy has indicated he will appoint qualified Republicans to top jobs.

Soft Words for New President

Winner Begins Filling Jobs

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today began the construction of a new administration by announcing that he will retain Allan W. Dulles as head of the central intelligence agency and J. Edgar Hoover as director of the federal bureau of investigation.

In his first press conference since winning the national election, the Democratic victor also announced plans for co-operating with President Eisenhower in the transition of one administration to another.

Kennedy expects to meet personally with Eisenhower, probably in Washington, late this month.

He also disclosed plans to fly to Texas next week to visit briefly with vice-president-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

NOTE TO NIKITA

Tackling a vast amount of organization work at his Cape Cod home here today, the president-elect also sent a message to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, saying "the achievement of a just and lasting peace will remain a fundamental goal of this nation."

KENNEDY GOT LESS THAN HALF OF U.S. VOTES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly complete returns indicated today that Sen. John F. Kennedy may have received less than half of the total votes cast for president.

With all but a small fraction of the vote counted, a United Press International tabulation early today showed that Kennedy had 49.99 per cent of the votes. Vice-President Richard Nixon and the minor party candidates had 50.01 per cent.

Excluding the other candidates, the tabulation gave these percentages:

Kennedy—50.26 per cent.

Nixon—49.74 per cent.

At 10.30 a.m. (PST) Kennedy's 346,000-vote margin over Nixon amounted to 0.48 per cent of the 66,542,000 votes cast for the two major party candidates.

The closest popular vote in history was the 0.30 per cent margin by which Democrat Grover Cleveland edged Republican James G. Blaine in 1884. Cleveland had 29,314 more votes than Blaine.

Truman Was Minority President

It may be weeks before it is finally determined whether Kennedy is the 12th president-elect in American history who failed to poll a majority of the popular vote. The final tally for minor party candidates will be the determining factor.

The last "minority" president was Harry S. Truman who outpolled Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by 2,100,000 votes in a four-man race in 1948 but failed to get a majority. The other two candidates—Strom Thurmond on the States' Rights ticket and Henry Wallace on the Progressive party ticket—each got more than 1,000,000 votes.

Meanwhile, in rechecks overnight the state of Hawaii, with three electoral votes was switched from the Kennedy to the Nixon column, but the margin is still so close it cannot be considered final. Alaska and New Mexico are still unsettled and even California, with its 32 votes for Kennedy is still very close.

With counting still going on the latest electoral college count showed Kennedy leading with 332 electoral votes and Nixon with 191 with 14 others unpledged.

'Any Steps Welcome' — Nikita

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently is manoeuvring for a summit conference with American President-elect John Kennedy.

He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months.

Western diplomats here agree that Khrushchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

In his message, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-United States relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions.

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a sentence that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

WILLING TO GO

Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, space, or general disarmament — including nuclear testing."

Neither in Kennedy's statement before the election nor in Khrushchev's new message is there any hint of changes in basic U.S. or Soviet policy.

Khrushchev has said repeatedly that he wants a peace treaty signed separately by East and West Germany, whereas the U.S. stands firm on a peace treaty signed by a united Germany. Khrushchev wants the Western allies to pull out of West Berlin. Kennedy, like President Eisenhower, has pledged firm U.S. support for the continued independence of West Berlin from Communist rule.

Some top diplomats here said Khrushchev's friendly tone to Kennedy may be related to the top-level meeting of Communist leaders in Moscow this week. It could be, they said, an effort by Khrushchev to demonstrate that he still has a chance to make peaceful coexistence work.

Meanwhile diplomatic quarters in London said today British Prime Minister Macmillan would give high priority in his expected talks with Kennedy to the convening of a new East-West summit conference next spring.

REMEMBER THEM ON THEIR DAY

Ghostly figures of Canadian soldiers march through the Italian countryside in the shadow of the Ortona Cross. More than 1,300 Canadian servicemen are buried at the Canadian Military Cemetery at Ortona—scene of one of the bitterest battles in Italy during the Second World War. On Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, millions of citizens across Canada will pay silent homage to the more than 100,000 Canadian servicemen who have died in defence of freedom since 1914.

TWIST OF FATE DISCLOSES MISTAKEN IDENTITY

'My God! That's Not Mary'... And It Wasn't

NEW YORK (AP) — An incredible case of mistaken identity was disclosed when a sealed coffin was opened so that a young man could place a ring on a finger of an airline stewardess who lay inside.

"My God! That's not Mary," whispered Bob Evans, a family friend, as he looked at the body of a young woman.

Mary Hawthorne, 26, of New York, was one of four American airline stewardesses riding in a cab in San Bruno,

Calif., Monday when it was in collision with another auto.

The four women and the cabbie were hurried to hospital in San Mateo, Calif. One stewardess died, and police, on the basis of scattered personal papers found at the crash scene, identified her as Mary Hawthorne.

The other girls underwent surgery and were placed on the critical list.

The body of the young woman identified as Mary Hawthorne was sent to a funeral home in the Bronx. It lay entombed in a sealed coffin until nearly midnight.

UNCLE'S STORY

Walter Scharrer of Mass. sapequa Park, N.Y., Mary looked and agreed right away. Hawthorne's uncle, said he was at the funeral home with Mary's friends, Evans and Norma Pugh, a stewardess.

Scharrer continued: "Bob Evans asked the man at the funeral home to open the coffin because he had a ring that Mary used to wear and he wanted to put it on her finger. It was a sentimental gesture."

"The man opened the coffin for him. No one in the family had asked to have the coffin opened and we still haven't looked inside."

"But when the lid was pushed back, Evans told us he said, 'Oh my God! That's not Mary!'"

"The girl with him, Norma, looked and agreed right away. It wasn't Mary."

"The funeral was supposed to be at 2 p.m. today and we called it off."

IDENTIFICATION MADE

American Airlines said the girl who is now listed as dead is Joan Frost, 26, of New York.

The two other stewardesses involved in the crash were Sheila Murray, 22, and Teresa DiPlacido, 22, of Philadelphia.

Miss Hawthorne remains in critical condition. Heavy bandages conceal her face and she hasn't regained consciousness since the accident, which was near San Francisco International Airport.

Miss Murray and Miss DiPlacido were reported in good condition.

MARKET SUMMARIES

New York, Toronto Both Show Strength

New York and Toronto stock markets both displayed strength today.

about a point. International Nickel gained 1/2, Walker Goodrich and Distillers Seagrams 1/2, and losses included McIntyre Porcupine 1/2 and Hudson Bay Mining 1/2.

AT MONTREAL higher prices prevailed on the stock exchange amid light trading early today.

AT LONDON the stock market was distinctly better today after Wednesday's uncertain response to the U.S. election result.

AT TORONTO base metals gained ground, led by International Nickel with a 50c gain at $51. Ventures improved 1/2 at 26 1/2.

Gold shares, the main exception, were uncertain following a fall in the London gold price.

Western oils, continually lower in recent sessions, moved higher behind Canadian Devonian with a 25c gain at $4.35.

Gilt-edged securities were firm on the lower German bank rate and hopes that there will be a further cut soon in the British bank rate. Dollar stocks were irregular.

AT NEW YORK a strong Canadian Dome Mines fell

AT VANCOUVER trading was brisk with improved prices during the morning. Cowichan Copper moved 1,500 at 23.00. Potash traded 3,200 at 35.00. Cold Lake Pipe sold 9,100 at 32.00. Canam Copper moved 3,000 at 18 1/2. Silbak traded 3,000 at 30.00. Woodway Stores "A" sold 1,000 at 15 1/2.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices generally showed irregularity and easiness in moderately active trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange causing sales to increase in all commodities.

Grain elevator labor troubles in Vancouver was a factor in the trade.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included West Germany, 800,000 bushels; United Kingdom, 535,000; Japan, 450,000; Italy, 90,000; and Rhodesia, small lots.

Lakehead prices for class two IWA and domestic prices all were up 1/2 from Wednesday.

By James Richardson and Sons

CHICAGO — Grain futures prices broke fairly sharply in the early afternoon today as general selling pressure hit all commodities.

Dealers said slackened commercial demand appeared to have been the factor in the weakness.

IF RIFLE WILL RASSLE THE PAY WILL BE GOOD

MONTREAL (UPI) — Promoter Eddie Quinn has offered ex-Montreal Alouettes football club quarterback Sam Etcheverry a minimum $25,000 a year guarantee if he will become a professional wrestler.

Quinn also put in a bid for Etcheverry last year. But the quarterback, who has been traded by the Montreal Alouettes to the Hamilton, Ont., Tiger-Cats, turned him down then.

The record book says that William Hobbs is retired, but you'd never guess it from the way he's been working the past few weeks.

Heading toward his 71st birthday, Hobbs has helped organize a lot of recreational and community projects since he retired from the RCMP in 1949. But he's never been as enthusiastic over any undertaking as he is about his current pet project—the "Little Grey Cup" football game.

Scheduled at Royal Athletic Park on Nov. 23, the juvenile pigskin clash will send a Victoria all-star club against the Winnipeg Rams. Although this first game can't be rated officially as a championship tussle, it is hoped that the idea will expand into an annual east-west final for 18-and-under grid clubs.

Enthusiasm greeting the "Little Grey Cup" idea in other cities suggests that it could become a true western final next season and may eventually expand into a Canadian title game.

Launching such a project is a time-consuming chore and Hobbs, handling just about all the arrangements, has been busy as an ant at a picnic, toiling six days a week in his efforts to ensure success of the venture.

His biggest worry, of course, is money and it will take around $2,000 to cover all expenses. The Jaycees are helping out in the sale of tickets, which also go on sale at the sporting goods department at Eaton's next Monday.

Prices for the tickets are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children, which seems an inexpensive fee for what promises to be an interesting afternoon's entertainment.

A member of the Saskatchewan Provincial Police before he switched to an RCMP uniform, Hobbs has long been interested in activities for boys. Before coming to Victoria, he organized and supported for four years a boys' band in Regina and later organized another boys' band in Vermilion, Alta.

He was stationed at Victoria for the first time in 1941 and it didn't take him long to decide where he wanted to live when he retired.

Perhaps it's a bit of treason for a former soccer centre-forward to rate another sport above the round-ball pastime, but Hobbs is sold on Canadian football.

"This football is just about the best game of all," he says. "It creates wonderful comradeship and team spirit. And the adherence to rules is strictly kept. It gives fine training for boys, both physically and mentally."

"Some people think it is a dangerous game, but others are just as rough. I had my leg broken twice and almost lost an eye while playing soccer."

Hobbs doesn't claim any credit for the idea of a "Little Grey Cup" game. That he gives to Lorne Heath and Pat Ginnell. But he's as enthusiastic about the project as if it was his own.

"It's going to mean a lot to the little fellows," he says. "It gives them an added incentive to play football, because they'll be hoping to play in 'Little Grey Cup' games of the future."

FOR FIGURE FILBERTS: Bill Hawrylak, chief statistician for the Western Interprovincial Football Union, says that this year he is adding defensive statistics to his set of WIFU figures, comparing each team with others in the league. He expects to have his annual release ready for mailing next week. For fans interested in the statistical part of the game, copies of final WIFU figures may be obtained for $1 from WIFU Statistics, 1942 Hamilton Avenue, Regina.

Royal Oaks Place Win Skein on Line

A battle of the undefeated is shaping up for Friday's exhibition soccer match at Royal Athletic Park.

Royal Oak of Vancouver, unbeaten in seven straight games, meet Victoria's All-Stars who haven't lost a home game in three years.

Clown Cagers Win and Please

Harlem Clowns wound up a two-day antic-filled exhibition stand here Wednesday with a 70-60 victory over Victoria Optimists junior men's team at Central Junior High.

In the preliminary bantam game First United beat St. Louis College 43-33.

Swim Gala Saturday

Annual championship gala of the Victoria "Y" Swimming Club will be held Saturday at Crystal Garden pool. Some 35 events in five age brackets begin at 8:45 p.m.

... But Please Don't Ask Us How You Can Get Tickets

REGINA (CP)—Vancouver will get almost three-eighths of all the Grey Cup tickets.

Grey Cup ticket distribution was outlined by Bob Gillies, Western Interprovincial Football Union secretary.

Seventy-five per cent of the tickets go to the league which has the park where the East-West final is played. Thus 75 per cent goes to the WIFU as the game will be played in Vancouver Nov. 26.

The Big Four gets the other 25 per cent.

The WIFU will split its share thus:

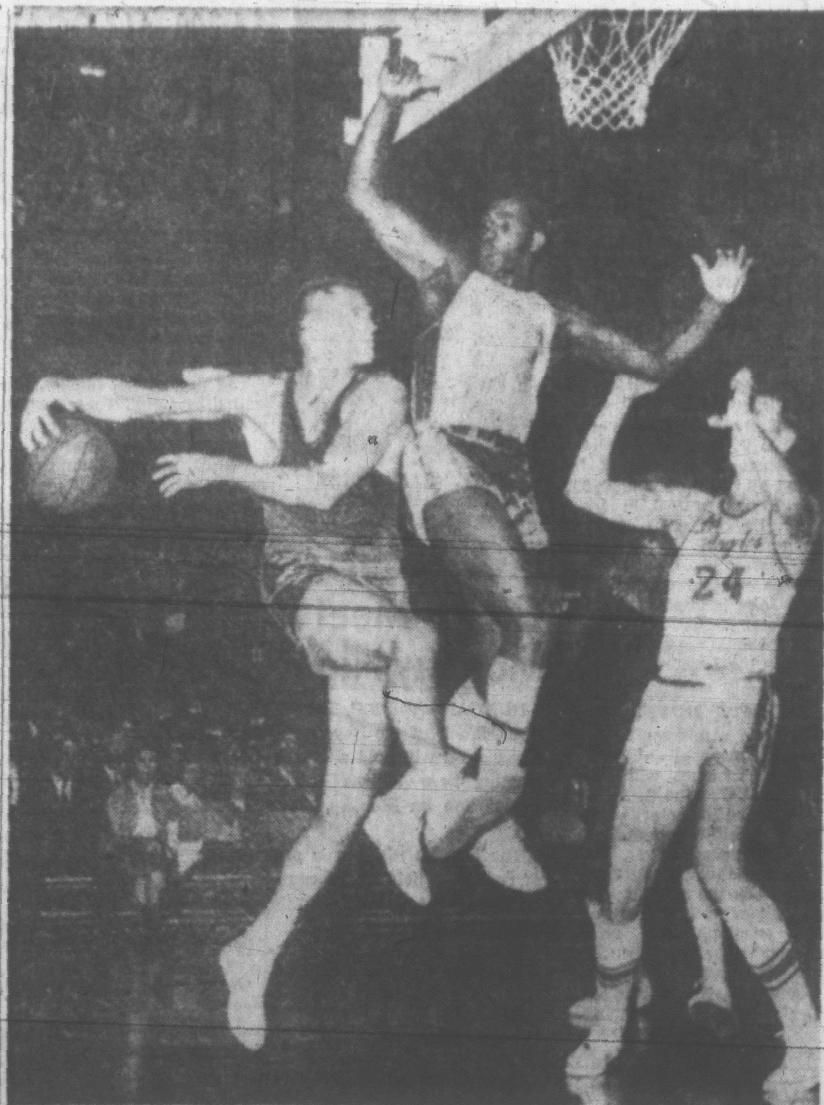

The host club, B.C. Lions, receives 40 per cent;

The club that wins the conference final, either Winnipeg or Edmonton, will receive 20 per cent;

The loser of the conference final will receive 13 per cent;

The other three clubs—Calgary, B.C. Lions and Saskatchewan—each get nine per cent.

Vancouver gets 40 per cent of the western total, plus an additional nine per cent as a league member not involved in the western final.

FANCY BALL HANDLING

Leaping high to block pass by Tom Gola (15) of Philadelphia Warriors, Los Angeles star Elgin Baylor is fooled as Gola passes behind back to teammate. At right is Gary Alcorn of Lakers. Warriors came out on top in National Basketball Association game Wednesday night at St. Louis as Wilt Chamberlain contributed 45 points to 125-118 victory.

Glenn Back in Groove And Hawks Back on Top

By The Canadian Press

Goalie Glenn Hall came through with a shutout performance Wednesday night to lead Chicago Black Hawks back into first place in the National Hockey League.

Hall, the NHL's all-star goalie for the last three seasons, had found the going rough in Chicago's five previous games—allowing 22 goals.

But Wednesday night the mild, soft-spoken goaltender was back in top form, stopping 29 shots in blanking Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 at Chicago.

The victory pushed the Black Hawks into a one-point lead in the standings over Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings, tied for second spot.

The surprising Red Wings scored three times in less than six minutes in the third period to turn a seemingly sure defeat into a 4-3 triumph over the Rangers at New York in the league's only other scheduled game.

Chicago now has 18 points while the Canadiens and Wings have 17. Toronto dropped three points off the pace with 15 points. Boston Bruins are fifth with 12 and the Rangers, losing their third game in a row, are in the cellar with nine points.

SECOND SHUTOUT

Hall's shutout was his second of the season—most by an NHL goalie this year.

Booby Hull, the league's scoring champion last season, got his eighth goal with a blast from the blueline. Defenceman Elmer "Moose" Vasko got the second goal.

The Red Wings' victory marked the second time in less than a week they had to come from behind with at least three goals in the third period to win.

They trailed 3-1 as late as 12:45 of the third period. Then the fireworks started.

Alex Delvecchio let go a 40-foot screened shot that eluded Lorne "Gump" Wessley, back in the nets after missing two games with a back injury.

GETS FIFTH GOAL

Parker MacDonald scored his fifth goal of the season less than four minutes later, skating behind the net and slapping an angle shot past Worsley.

Defenceman Pete Goegan got the winner with less than two minutes to go.

Murray-Oliver scored Detroit's first goal in the opening period while Brian Cullen, Camille Henry and Dean Prentice got the Ranger goals.

Home-Run Power Helps Giants Win
HIROSHIMA (AP) — Two big home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped San Francisco Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

TURKEY WINNERS

Mrs. Fred Briggs, 113-36-77, Mrs. J. Gillan, 95-18-77, and Mrs. C. H. Harrell, 90-13-77, were winners of this week's turkey competition for women at the Uplands Golf Club.

Moro One Short Of Comet Total

Cougar Rally Just Misses Against Spokane

Jim Moro, who is thriving on a change of hockey diet, will be trying to make his scoring total a little fatter at Memorial Arena tonight.

Moro, the fleet winger who always performed on the right flank before coming to the Victoria Cougars, was shuffled over to the port side because the Cats were overloaded with starboard snipers.

The change has been like a shot in the arm for the 26-year-old forward who scored only 11 goals in 43 Western Hockey League games with Calgary last season.

Moro was bombing in big league style at Spokane Wednesday night. He collected three goals to boost his total to six for the young season.

SECOND TRIUMPH

The only trouble was that Jim was the only Cougar who was able to find the range against the Comets, who made an early lead stand up for a 4-3 victory.

It was only the second triumph of the season for the Comets, who have chalked up both wins on home ice, and both of them against the Cougars.

Cougars, who have returned the compliment by beating Spokane twice at Memorial Arena, will be trying to keep the record straight Friday night when they tackle the Comets in a return bout at Memorial Arena.

FLYERS WIN

In Wednesday's other WHL tussle, Edmonton Flyers moved four points out in front of the four clubs deadlocked in second place by nipping Seattle Totems 5-4 at Edmonton.

Cougars, showing the effects of their rugged battle at Vancouver Tuesday, in which they tripped the Canucks 3-1, got untracked too late at Spokane. "The boys found their legs too late," said coach George Agar. "We had it all over them in the third period, but couldn't get enough shots into the net."

Comets were in front, 2-1, at the end of the first period and stretched the margin to 4-1 after six minutes of the third session. Cougars caught fire in the final 10 minutes and several times came within a whisker of forcing overtime.

MISSING BY INCHES

Moro had the tying goal within his grasp in the closing exchanges. He broke in on goal, pulled goalie Cesare Manigault out of position, and then had the puck roll off the end of his stick, missing the net by inches.

Missing Wednesday's game was Bill Saunders, who played his first game with the Cats at Vancouver Tuesday and picked up an ankle sprain in the third period.

The injury was just one of four suffered by the Cats on the two-game road jaunt. Goalie Marcel Pelletier collected a five-stitch cut over an eye at Vancouver. On Wednesday Moro needed eight stitches to patch up his right ear and rookie Bert Fizzell acquired four stitches over an eye.

Scoring for Comets were Forbes Kennedy, Bev Bell, Colin Kilburn and Steve Wittuk.

JUMPED AT IDEA

Trade Offer Amazed Jake

MONTREAL (CP) — A rift that first appeared in the Montreal Alouettes football camp six weeks ago blew wide open Wednesday when the Alouettes traded two of the Canadian game's greatest players to Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Alouettes, in a deal that rocked Montreal football fans like a bombshell, sent quarterback Sam Etcheverry and end Hal Patterson to the Ti-Cats.

They got quarterback Bernie Faloney and defensive end Don Paquette, a 21-year-old Canadian, in return.

A player disagreement with Perry Moss, general manager and head coach, and reported dissension among the Alouettes themselves this season, were believed to be the main reasons for the swap.

The deal was completed by Ted Workman, Alouettes president, and Jake Gaudaur, president of the Ti-Cats.

"Frankly, I never dreamed the Alouettes were interested in getting rid of Etcheverry. I was astounded when he was offered to me for Faloney," Gaudaur said.

"I always regarded Sam as one of the greatest quarterbacks in the country. Asked who suggested Patterson for Paquette, Gaudaur said: 'It wasn't me.'"

"I couldn't have dreamed of such an idea. But I sure jumped at the idea."

Etcheverry, 30, and with the Alouettes this season, was known to have been at loggerheads with Moss, 33-year-old rookie coach.

Only last Saturday, following Montreal's loss to Ottawa, he flatly contradicted a statement by Moss.

Etcheverry, the greatest passer the Canadian game has ever known, didn't throw a single pass in the first half. After the game Moss told newspapermen Etcheverry had a sore shoulder.

Etcheverry promptly said it wasn't the shoulder but Moss' orders that stopped him from passing.

Montreal fans took the news hard. "Are they crazy?" "What's really behind it?" These were typical reactions.

Montreal fans took the news hard.

Canada at Nuclear Ready If Disarmament Fails

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Defence Minister Douglas Harkness said today that while disarmament negotiations are going on the Canadian government is taking the precaution of training forces for nuclear warfare and making arrangements to secure carriers capable of delivering nuclear warheads of a defensive nature.

Canada has committed itself to obtaining the Honest John, ground-to-ground missile and the Bomarc missile for defence against manned bombers. Both are capable of being armed with nuclear warheads.

The Honest John would be supplied to the Canadian infantry brigade now in training in Europe. Two Bomarc bases are being built in Canada, one in Ontario and one in Quebec and it is expected the Bomarc missiles will be available late next year.

CLARIFIES POSITION

During his 8,600-mile flight to Britain and through Europe last week to tour the brigade and air division, Mr. Harkness participated in discussions on the need for nuclear weapons. The question of control of nuclear weapons and making NATO a fourth nuclear power was also discussed during meetings he had with British, French, German and NATO officials.

In interviews while abroad, Mr. Harkness spoke of the need for nuclear weapons but said the question of nuclear weapons is "still up in the air." On his return to Ottawa this week he issued his statement today clarifying his position on the question of nuclear weapons.

"The Canadian government is making every possible effort to secure an agreement on disarmament, and our policy on nuclear arms is related directly to this fact.

"If disarmament efforts are successful, Canada will not need nuclear arms.

"If they are not successful, the only hope of preventing war will be a western world at least as powerful as the communist world. The latter is well known to possess nuclear weapons of all types, and NATO similarly armed are essential to maintain the deterrent to war.

"While disarmament negotiations are going on, prudence and good sense dictate that preparations have to continue to be made in case no agreement is arrived at.

"This involves training forces for nuclear warfare and securing, or making arrangements to secure, the carriers which could be used to deliver nuclear warheads of a defensive nature," he said.

ALASKA BACKS FERRY LINK WITH B.C.

JUNEAU, Alaska (CP)—The most controversial of six bond issues put to Alaska voters Tuesday appears headed for approval.

It would authorize $23,000,000 worth of bonds to construct two big ferry boats to run between Prince Rupert, B.C., and Haines, Alaska, and another to operate from Kodiak Island to the mainland, plus ferry terminals and $5,000,000 or more in road construction funds.

The bond issue had been opposed by many of the candidates for the state legislature. The vote on this proposition stood this morning at 29,000 in favor and 16,207 opposed, with ballots counted from 19 of 300 precincts.

$160 MILLION GROSS INCOME IN 1959

750-Ship Japanese Fishing Empire

VANCOUVER (CP)—Leaders of the Pacific Ocean fishing industries have a saying that when Kenkichi Nakabe speaks, "All Japan bows and the fish of the seven seas tremble."

It is said with a bit of a smile, but there is a basis of truth in it.

For Mr. Nakabe, 65-year-old Japanese fishing emperor, and his family control the biggest fish company in the world, the Taiyo Fisheries, whose gross income last year was about $160,000,000.

No species of commercially valuable fish in the high seas are safe from his ultra-modern fleet of 750 ships.

At present, three of his whaling fleets are nearing fishing grounds in the Antarctic. Each contains a factory ship, 12 catcher boats and four to five refrigerated transporters.

WHALES TO MINK

Everything from whales to mink, hotels and shipyards are in the Nakabe empire.

Mr. Nakabe is chairman of the Japanese section of the International Pacific Fisheries Commission, meeting in Vancouver this week to iron out fishing problems in the Pacific involving Japan, Canada and the United States.

The Nakabe family had three boats and a staff of 12 when Mr. Nakabe's grandfather told his 15-year-old son in 1880: "It is time you took over."

Today, besides his 750 fishing vessels with a total tonnage of 200,000 and bases around the world, Kenkichi Nakabe and his family have mink, five shipyards, one capable of building ships up to 100,000 tons; a hotel and restaurant developed as a fishermen's club; and 20 big plants for fruit and vegetable canning, ice making and cold storage.

In recent months he started mink farming with the aid of an American expert. Last month Mr. Nakabe reported $500,000 worth of breeding mink.

Polaris Flies Record 1,600 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An advanced, longer-range model of the Polaris missile successfully flew more than 1,600 miles on its maiden flight today. This is 300 miles farther than any previous Polaris travelled.

Tribe Battles UN Irish Congo Troops

ALBERTVILLE, Katanga (UPI) — New fighting has broken out in the Congo between Irish soldiers of the UN contingent and Baluba tribesmen.

The fighting started when the Balubas opened fire on Irish troops who were looking for victims of a massacre on Tuesday night.

Three UN columns of 30 men each were converging on the area with helicopters flying overhead.

Jack Jacobs Quits Ticats to Go West

HAMILTON, Ont. (UPI) — Indian Jack Jacobs, former Winnipeg Blue Bombers star who has been backfield coach of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats for the past three years, today resigned to go to a western Canada football team.

Jim Trimble, coach of the Ticats, said he could not say what team Jacobs was going to in western Canada. It would probably be Regina or Calgary.

Billy Hitchcock Hired By Mounties

VANCOUVER (CP) — General manager Bob Freitas announced today that former major league veteran Billy Hitchcock has been signed as field manager with Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Hitchcock, 42, has been employed as a coach with Detroit Tigers of the American League since 1955. He signed a one-year contract with Vancouver.

New Crisis Looming In Algeria

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today ordered defence minister Pierre Messmer to fly to day revolt-torn Algeria where there have been widespread reports of disaffection in the French army.

Messmer will leave for Algeria Saturday morning, it was announced. He will visit the big French naval base at Mers El Kebir, near Oran, troops along the Algerian-Moroccan frontier and fighting units at Tiarret, in the mountains south-east of Oran.

He will return to Paris the evening of Nov. 15.

Messmer's trip followed reports of unrest in France's North African Army over de Gaulle's plans to make Algeria a near-independent republic.

DE GAULLE DETERMINED There also have been widespread rumors that the Moslem rebels are planning a major offensive with heavy arms from Communist countries.

De Gaulle was reported to have told a cabinet meeting Wednesday that he is determined to ram through his "Algerian Algeria" policy regardless of opposition.

De Gaulle suffered a setback early today in his controversial

'My God! That's Not Mary'... And It Wasn't

NEW YORK (AP) — An incredible case of mistaken identity was disclosed when a sealed coffin was opened so that a young man could place a ring on a finger of an airline stewardess who lay in state.

"My God! That's not Mary," whispered Bob Evans, a family friend, as he looked at the body of a young woman.

Mary Hawthorne, 26, of New York, was one of four American airline stewardesses riding in a cab in San Bruno, Calif., Monday when it was in collision with another auto.

The four women and the cabbie were hurried to hospital in San Mateo, Calif. One stewardess died, and police, on

NEGROES BACKED KENNEDY

Religious Issue Hurt, Helped Each Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First returns on the impact of the religious issue in Tuesday's election indicated that it cut both ways, deeply in some areas but not so much in others.

A survey of heavily Catholic counties in various states showed president-elect John F. Kennedy, a Catholic, generally running much stronger than Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee in 1956. He was weaker in some counties with a very low Catholic population.

A check of predominantly Negro wards in five large cities indicated a sizeable shift of the Negro vote toward Kennedy, compared with President Eisenhower's vote in the same wards four years ago.

Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton Wednesday called a shift in the Negro vote a major factor in the defeat of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon. He also expressed the belief that Nixon was hurt more than helped by the religious issue.

Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson disagreed with Morton's analysis but blamed Kennedy's defeat in farm belt states on the religious issue.

The Negro and Catholic vote, along with support from organized labor, presumably contributed heavily to Kennedy's strong showing in the big cities, which helped him carry most of the populous states with the most prized blocs of electoral votes.

Justice Minister Fulton ordered the inquiry after former Quebec hydraulic resources minister Daniel Johnson drew his attention to the reports in a Quebec weekly newspaper.

Summit Move Indicated Soon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev apparently is manoeuvring for a summit conference with American President-elect John Kennedy.

He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months.

Western diplomats here agree that Khrushchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

In his message, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-United States relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready "to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions."

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a sentence that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

WILLING TO GO Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, space, or general disarmament — including nuclear testing."

Neither in Kennedy's statement before the election nor in Khrushchev's new message is there any hint of changes in basic U.S. or Soviet policy. Khrushchev has said repeat.

KENNEDY GOT LESS THAN HALF OF U.S. VOTES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly complete returns indicated today that Sen. John F. Kennedy may have received less than half of the total votes cast for president.

With all but a small fraction of the vote counted, a United Press International tabulation early today showed that Kennedy had 49.99 percent of the votes. Vice-President Richard Nixon and the minor party candidates had 50.01 per cent.

Excluding the other candidates, the tabulation gave these percentages:

Kennedy—50.26 per cent.

Nixon—49.74 per cent.

At 10.30 a.m. (PST) Kennedy's 346,000-vote margin over Nixon amounted to 0.48 per cent of the 66,542,000 votes cast for the two major party candidates.

The closest popular vote in history was the 0.30 per cent margin by which Democrat Grover Cleveland edged Republican James G. Blaine in 1884. Cleveland had 29,314 more votes than Blaine.

Truman Was Minority President

It may be weeks before it is finally determined whether Kennedy is the 12th president-elect in American history who failed to poll a majority of the popular vote. The final tally for minor party candidates will be the determining factor.

The last "minority" president was Harry S. Truman who outpolled Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by 2,100,000 votes in a four-man race in 1948 but failed to get a majority. The other two candidates—Strom Thurmond on the States' Rights ticket and Henry Wallace on the Progressive party ticket—each got more than 1,000,000 votes.

Meanwhile, in rechecks overnight the state of Hawaii, with three electoral votes was switched from the Kennedy to the Nixon column, but the margin is still so close it cannot be considered final. Alaska and New Mexico are still unsettled and even California, with its 32 votes for Kennedy is still very close.

With counting still going on the latest electoral college count showed Kennedy leading with 332 electoral votes and Nixon with 191 with 14 others unpledged.

Th' headline writers will hev their fun with a summit conference when K meets K.

Them fellers who want t' put a fee on campin' in th' public parks—whut w'd they charge for jist smellin' th' flowers?

Khrushchev wants the Western allies to pull out of West Berlin. Kennedy, like President Eisenhower, has pledged firm U.S. support for the continued independence of West Berlin from Communist rule.

Some top diplomats here said Khrushchev's friendly tone to Kennedy may be related to the top-level meeting of Communist leaders in Moscow this week. It could be, they said, an effort by Khrushchev to demonstrate that he still has a chance to make peaceful co-existence work.

Meanwhile diplomatic quarters in London said today British Prime Minister Macmillan would give high priority in his expected talks with Kennedy to the convening of a new East-West summit conference next spring.

After an all-night debate, the senate voted 186 to 83 against the plan, which had been rammed through the national assembly as a confidence issue.

The effect of the senate vote was to delay but probably not to kill the project. A joint senate-assembly committee will now work out a compromise version which could be voted into law by the assembly.

Remembrance Day Services Around Island

All major Vancouver Island centres will honor their war dead Friday.

At Sidney, the parade will move off from the post office at 10:40 a.m. and march to the cenotaph. If the weather is bad, the service will be held in Sanscha Hall.

At Ladysmith, Legion president J. V. Platt will officiate at cenotaph ceremonies, assisted by padre of Branch 171, Rev. Ronald Buttel.

At Parksville, Walter E. Barnum will be parade marshal and the cenotaph service will be conducted by Rev. John Stainer, assisted by Dr. Peter Kelly.

A masquerade party will be held in the Legion Hall in the evening.

CENOTAPH MOVED

George Anderson will be parade marshal at Alberni and observances will include laying of wreaths in Alberni's Greenwood cemetery and at Port Alberni cenotaph.

At Campbell River, annual Remembrance Day Service will be held in the community hall instead of at the cenotaph as the cenotaph was recently moved to the new Tye Plaza, not yet completed.

A dance will be held in the Legion Hall in the evening.

Similar observances are scheduled elsewhere.

CHEMAMUS — Attention Highway Minister P. A. Gallagher!

Chemamus Chamber of Commerce would like to point out that provincial works crews here are hard-working — but perhaps a little over-anxious to please.

About six months ago, the chamber requested a crosswalk for school children at the corner of the Trans-Canada Highway and Henry Road. The works crews recently installed a crosswalk all right, but three-quarters of a mile north of where it was sought, at Trans-Canada and Rivers Road.

"We'd probably have needed one there eventually anyway," said chamber president James Webster, "but we still need one where we originally asked for it because this busy intersection is well used by children going and coming from school."

The chamber will re-submit its original request to the department of highways.

Reeve Opposes Sports Budget

NORTH COWICHAN — Provisional 1961 budget of North Cowichan Sports Council was tentatively approved by municipal council Wednesday despite repeated objections by Reeve D. C. Morton.

The provisional budget, presented by Coun. Tony Staples, allocates $4,200 for development of recreational areas and facilities in the municipality next year.

The budget provides for the following work: Chemainus, 28 acres to be set aside in North Chemainus for a playing field, survey charges, $200; Crofton, completion of community hall park, $2,000; Maple Bay, top fill for field and base for tennis court, $800; Soanemo, seeding and top dressing for playing field, $200; general development, $1,000.

Reeve Morton questioned the amount budgeted for work at Crofton. "On this basis," something like $10,000 should be spent on the south end of the municipality. You must remember that the taxpayers in the south end are paying a big portion of this."

He didn't agree with the idea of a tennis court at Maple Bay either, and noted that other courts in the district were little used. The reeve felt the program should be given more detailed consideration.

Defending the proposed budget, Councillor Staples said that the sports council had made a moderate start this year and he felt the works should be continued.
